JUSTICE PLANS ADDRESS FRIDAY NIGHT

BLACK APPARENTLY READY TAKE PLACE ON SUPREME COURT

RECENT COURT APPOINTEE TO ADDRESS NATION ON AIR FRIDAY NIGHT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Associate Justice Hugo L. Black, President Roosevelt's appointee to the supreme court, will speak to the nation over the radio tomorrow night — presumably to reply to allegations that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

National Broadcasting company officials here announced that Black, who returned yesterday from a European vacation, would make his address over nationwide radio facilities from 9:30 to 10 p. m., Eastern Standard time.

Upon his arrival in Norfolk, Va., yesterday, the Justice told two score newsmen that whenever he had any statement to make on the Klan charges he would "make it in a way that can not be misquoted and so the nation can hear it."

Whether Black consulted with the President before making up his mind to give his side of the case over the air could not be learned, but few observers believed it likely that he had made his decision without presidential knowledge of his intentions.

The newly-named jurist and his wife spent last night at the home of Mrs. Black's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Durr, near suburban Alexandria, Va.

This morning Black was early and left the residence. Friends indicated he might visit his office in the Supreme Court building during the day.

There appeared to be no question that the Justice would take his seat on the bench Monday when the court resumes after a summer recess.

The announcement that Black would speak over the radio was made by Kenneth H. Berkeley, general manager of the Washington offices of the broadcasting company after the latter had talked with Durr.

Later it was announced that the address also would be carried over the Columbia broadcasting system and the Mutual Broadcasting company network.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Hugo L. Black appeared ready today to begin his work as a supreme court justice even before he decides whether to reply to charge that he is a member of the Ku Kluk Klan.

Friends of the former Alabama senator, who returned yesterday from a month's vacation in Europe, indicated he might visit his new offices during the day.

Black laughed off a question as to when he would begin his new duties.

"When I get ready," he said. "When I get a chance to see my folks—if I do."

There seemed to be no question, however, that the new associate justice will take his seat on the bench Monday, when the court resumes after a summer recess.

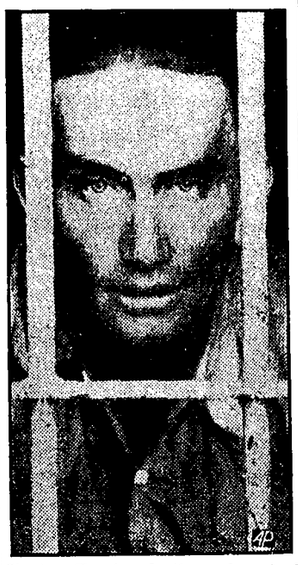

His reply to the Klan allegations, if he finally decides to take public cognizance of them, may or may not be made before that time.

Whatever he says may be voiced in a radio address to the nation. Before debarking from the liner City of Norfolk, he told newspapermen that when he had any statement he would "make it in a way that cannot be misquoted and so the nation can hear it."

The generally accepted supposition that the counsel of President Roosevelt will influence Black's

FATE OF KIDNAPED WEALTHY CHICAGOAN REMAINS UNCERTAIN

NO WORD RECEIVED FROM KIDNAPER OF CHARLES S. ROSS SINCE SNATCH

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The fate of Charles S. Ross appeared as uncertain today as the next move of his three kidnapers.

Five days of intensive investigation produced several clues but none offered an immediate solution to the wealthy 72-year-old retired manufacturer's abduction.

Investigators had virtually a complete record of his actions from the time he left a Sycamore, Ill., hotel until he was taken from his car on a highway 15 miles west of Chicago Saturday night. There the trail ended.

Fears for Ross' life increased with each passing hour. Several hundred policemen searched fields and woods near the kidnaping scene for his body on the theory the elderly victim, who suffered from heart disease, died of shock. Others, acting on a possibility he was still a captive, searched western suburbs for the kidnapers' hideout.

Mrs. Ross was reported on the verge of collapse. She has waited in vain for word from the abductors. There was no indication from federal agents that ransom demands had been made.

Senator Declares Cotton Loan Not As Agreed Upon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The administration's nine-cent cotton loan plan, says Senator Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina, is "at variance" with an understanding between President Roosevelt and Southern cotton senators.

Smith, chairman of the senate agriculture committee, said in a statement last night it was his understanding the agreement reached in the closing days of the last session of congress did not require farmers to agree to comply with a 1938 farm adjustment program in order to qualify for loans.

VAST CHINESE ARMY ORDERED NORTHERN FRONT ON THURSDAY

JAPANESE "BIG PUSH" IN SHANGHAI ARE STOPPED BY DEFENDING CHINESE

SHANGHAI, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Two hundred thousand more Chinese communists were ordered to the North China front today to stem the relentless advance of the Japanese army, as Chinese outside Shanghai continued to hold their positions and showed no signs of weakening.

Communist forces in Kiangsi province were mustered to join nationalist troops, their old enemies, as the Japanese advanced through Eastern Hopeh almost to the border of Shantung province, which has felt only light, infrequent attacks from armies from the land of the Rising Sun.

With their offensive in Central and North China being pushed vigorously, Japanese sources declared their information indicated Marshal Vassily Galents-Bluecher, commander-in-chief of Soviet Russia's Siberian forces was advising the Chinese armies.

The Japanese "big push" against the Chinese defense lines northwest of Shanghai was fought to a standstill. Japanese hurled every weapon they could muster against the strongly-fortified Chinese positions but were unable to smash through.

The Domei (Japanese) News Agency reported from Nanking that Marshal Galents-Bluecher was directing the Chinese resistance by telephone from his Siberian headquarters.

Twice daily, the Domei dispatch said, the Russian marshal was in communication with E. D. Lepin, military attache of the Soviet embassy in Nanking, receiving the fullest reports and advising on troop operations.

Supplies Being Brought In.

The dispatch declared that the road across the western province of Sinkiang was choked with trucks bringing munitions and other military supplies into China from Soviet Siberia.

A fleet of Chinese junks, loaded with stones, was taken up the Yangtze river 80 miles north of Shanghai to the Kiangyin forts where they will be sunk in order to strengthen the present barrier there against attacks by Japanese warships.

Chinese expect Japan to launch a joint aerial and naval attack on this vital barrier, which is the main protection of the capital at Nanking from the advance of the Japanese fleet into the interior.

Americans Brought Out.

The American army transport Chaumont arrived today from Chefoo and Tsingtao, up the coast, with 500 women and children, the families of American naval officers and sailors, en route to Manila.

The Chaumont took on one hundred additional refugees from

UNITED CHARITIES DRIVE CONTINUING; AMOUNT NOT KNOWN

CHAIRMAN PAUL HAS BEEN UNABLE TO CONTACT ALL HIS COMMITTEEMEN

F. C. Paul, gneeral chairman of the United Charities annual drive for a minimum of $3,600, announced today he had been unable to contact committees canvassing the city, and was unable to make a report of the progress of the drive. At noon Tuesday approximately $1,500 had been subscribed.

General Chairman Paul is asking the committees to complete their work as quickly as possible, and make a final check to him.

He also urged them to make return visits to persons whom they did not see the first time they were contacted.

The concensus of opinion among the committees, General Chairman Paul said, is that persons subscribing to the cause are responding, but in many cases they are reducing their contributions below what they gave last year and previous years. He added that indications are more money will be needed this year than in previous years, because many families that have been earning their livelihood from the WPA work will be dependent upon the United Charities until they can find other employment. He said WPA work having been withdrawn from Navarro county will increase the demands upon the United Charities, and urged contributors to increase their subscriptions.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS REACHES DECISION IN SPANISH CASE

MUSSOLINI MUST WITHDRAW TROOPS OR FRENCH FRONTIER TO BE OPENED

GENEVA, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A League of Nations subcommittee was understood today to have reached a fateful decision to present Premier Mussolini with the alternative of withdrawing his Italian volunteers from the Spanish civil war or seeing the French frontier thrown open to arms and men for the Spanish Valencia government.

A delegate who left the session of the committee drafting a resolution on the Spanish civil conflict said this agreement had been reached after a heated three-hour argument.

He reported that the draft resolution does not refer to the "foreign aggression" which Spain had charged against Italy, but rather to "foreign intervention."

The resolution was said to declare if the withdrawal of foreign combatants is not made effective within one month's time, the signatories of the non-intervention agreement are "invited to envisage" a return to a policy based on international law.

This was interpreted by the committee members to mean complete abandonment of the entire non-intervention policy, enabling the Spanish government to obtain war materials wherever it wished.

The French were reported to have given the Spanish delegation assurances that the frontier would be opened in the event volunteers were not withdrawn.

The one month delay was said to have been provided to enable Britain and France to carry on negotiations with Italy during which they hope to persuade Mussolini to withdraw his troops.

The resolution must be submitted to the League assembly for adoption before it becomes effective. This step will probably be taken Saturday.

Challenge Mussolini To Keep Promises

LONDON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The determined Anglo-French move to end intervention in Spain's civil war challenged Premier Mussolini today to prove he meant what he said in his loud peace offers during his visit to Chancellor Hitler.

The Italian Premier was expected by certain diplomatic quarters to counter the invitation to tripower talks aimed at withdrawal of Italy's legions from Spain with a blunt request tha both ends of the Rome-Berlin axis be represented.

Whether this would constitute an insurmountable barrier for British and French policy remained to be seen. There was no authoritative comment on the re-action of Paris and London to such a possible counter-proposal.

Britain and France were reported agreed on a pressure move to force Il Duce to call Italian

R. L. WHEELOCK IS ON NOMINATING COMMITTEE A. P. I.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 30.—(Spl.)—R. L. Wheelock of Wheelock and Collins of Corsicana, has been named a member of the important Nominating Committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, according to Chas. F. Roeser, president.

The committee, composed of leading oil men over the country, will report its selections for the board of directors and vice presidents for the various regions at the annual meeting of the association at Houston, Texas, October 14 to 16 during the Oil-World Exposition.

Successful legislative accomplishments, battled for by the association and to be reported will include, according to C. E. Buchner, executive manager:

Extension for two years of the Connally "Hot Oil" law which expired in June 1937; tax on imported crude and gasoline which expired in June again imposed effective to 1939; renewed and extended to 1939 the Interstate Oil Compact; Greever-Dempsey-O'Mahoney bill extended provisions expiring on permits to drill public lands; appropriation for Bureau of Mines work in forecasting state demand was reinstated in bill after being stricken; secured House vote for Vinson waste disposal measure; which was amended by the Senate, but on which conferees failed to agree.

ROOSEVELT DEFENDS REGIONAL PLANNING

President Roosevelt is pictured as he stood before the $51,000,000 dam site and hydro-electric project at Bonneville, Tuesday, pledging in a stirring address to thousands his administration's policy of "building from the ground up." He cited the wisdom of a nation spending its money for projects of peace rather than for weapons of war. Defending his regional planning policy, Roosevelt said the government would be able to spend more effectively under it, adding that he expects to have the nation's budget balanced by the next fiscal year.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL BLOOMING GROVE FAIR OPENED THURSDAY

MISS MILDRED SIMS CROWNED QUEEN OF FAIR FOLLOWING OPENING PARADE

BLOOMING GROVE, Sept. 30.—(Spl.)—The fourteenth annual exhibition of the Blooming Grove Fair Association was officially opened today immediately after the big inaugural parade which is a perennial feature of the exposition. Miss Mildred Sims, high school senior and granddaughter of Mrs. Berta Moore, was presented as "Queen of the Fair" for 1937.

The opening procession was headed by Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse as parade marshal and an unusually large number of decorated entries were in the procession. One of the outstanding features was the appearance of the Corsicana high school Tiger band under the direction of Joel C. Trimble.

An increase in the number of exhibits of all types was noticeable and since all the displays were completed Wednesday night, judging started immediately after the parade. Greatly increased entries were noted in the horse and sheep division, and more than 100 head of cattle were on exhibition with the largest beef cattle division in the history of the fair. Poultry entries were slightly under the peak of a few years ago but more than 350 birds were in place and all of better quality than many years preceding.

Five Future Farmer exhibits were in place, including those from Kerens, Mildred, Emhouse, Barry and Blooming Grove, and four master-farmer displays were entered, along with many individual entries in all departments.

The annual horse show was the feature of Thursday afternoon and the annual rodeo will be presented each night for the remainder of the week with a matinee thrown in Saturday afternoon for good measure.

The senior class of the high school took first prize for the best decorated float in the parade. The new paved main street of Blooming Grove was formally opened Thursday morning as an added event of the opening of the fair.

Thursday was "School Children's Day" at the fair and Friday has been designated as "Corsicana Day." The closing day, Saturday, has been designated as "All-Navarro County Day."

Grocery Company Safe Is Robbed Noon Thursday

Between $400 and $500 was taken from the safe of the Beauchamp - Patrick Wholesale Grocery company, 108 East Sixth avenue, shortly before noon Thursday, according to statements made to officers. Most of the money was in checks. The money was in an envelope, and the intruder, apparently familiar with the surroundings and arrangement, came into the office, opened the safe, procured the loot and made his escape unnoticed.

The exact amount in the envelope was not known early Thursday afternoon.

The burglary was reported to Constable Clarence Powell.

PRIVATE TRANSPORT PLANE REPORTED MISSING IS SAFE

KINGMAN, Ariz., Spe.t 30.—(AP)—A private tri-motored transport plane, missing almost 24 hours with three men aboard, landed safely here today after a blinding rainstorm had forced an emergency landing in the rugged mountain country.

Pilot Garland Lincoln, Hollywood stunt flyer, said rain and lightning had forced the plane down near Seligman, Ariz., 90 miles east of here, and the three spent the night in the ship.

The plane was not damaged, Lincoln said. Other occupants were Earl Hobson, mechanic, El Segundo, Calif., and H. B. Taylor of Las Vegas, N. M.

SEEKING TO REOPEN APPROPRIATIONS OF REGULAR SESSION

WOULD REVIEW THE WHOLE PROBLEM OF APPROPRIATIONS; OPPOSE NEW TAXES

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—An economy bloc launched a drive in the Texas senate today, seeking to re-open apropriations made last spring.

It met temporary success as the senate reduced from $100,000 to $50,000 a bill to pay salaries and mileage of legislators to and from home already passed by the house of representatives.

Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo had urged amendment of the bill to return an estimated $1,600,000 in excess fees now in special funds to the general treasury, divert certain money now going to schools also to general revenue and otherwise tackle again the whole problem of appropriations.

Gov. James V. Allred called the special session of the legislature to consider raising revenue only and has frowned on suggestions that appropriations be opened.

Small argued that unless the matter was approached by the mileage and per diem bill there might not be another opportunity to take up appropriations.

It was agreed by unanimous consent to appropriate only $50,000 so that a supplemental bill would have to be offered again and the discussion could be resumed.

Criminal Negligence.

Small declared it would be "criminal negligence" to neglect the chance to save the state "a useless waste of money."

"There are some glaring errors in the appropriations bills which cannot be limited," he said, "but there are many things which are demanding action.

"We want to take care of the situation by saving instead of new taxes."

Small also expressed opinion the constitutional inhibition against impairment of obligations dd not apply to cutting salaries of employes of the state and admitted there were salaries he thought should be reduced, specially in the higher brackets.

Small said he thought that by amendment of the mileage and per diem bill most errors in appropriations could be reached although perhaps some constitutional salaries, such as those for the governor, $12,000, and the attorney general, $10,000 could not be reduced.

Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth suggested the legislature "could fail to appropriate the money for those salaries."

Would Have to Be Paid.

Small replied the claim would remain and would have to be paid some day.

A sub-group of the house revenue and taxation committee tentatively decided to recommend boosting the oil tax from 2 3-4 to 4 per cent of value and a corresponding increase in the rates on other natural resources and utilities except telegraph companies.

Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur, chairman, said it appeared the sub-committee would urge an omnibus rather than "single-shot" bills. Public hearings on its recommendations will begin Monday.

Jones said the committee seemed inclined to favor his bill doubling the levy on corporation franchises except it might refuse to use the rate on small companies.

Income Tax Chance Dim.

He disclosed chances of an income levy were dimmed by the feeling in the committee that the state should not enter a new tax field at this time.

BAR RESOLUTION FOR PROBE OF BLACK SIDETRACKED AND "BATTALION OF DEATH" SET UP

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The American Bar Association today definitely killed an investigation of the appointment of Justice Black but, in heated debate, directed further study of a proposed condemnation of membership in "secret, oath bound" organizations as incompatible with the position of supreme court justices.

The assembly of the association, almost evenly divided, instructed the resolutions committee to make a joint study of the secret order resolution and of a suggestion, made by Lessing Rosenthal of Chicago, that the bar association go on record favoring mandatory public hearings in the senate on all further supreme court nominations.

An original resolution by Robert Lee Tullis proposed a bar association committee of five be appointed to ascertain the "relevant facts in regard to the latest appointee."

The resolutions committee reported to the assembly "there is nothing now pending in respect of which the Tullis investigation be rejected.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A resolution to investigate Justice Hugo Black was sidetracked and probably killed in an American Bar Association committee today while Rep. Hatton W. Sumners, Texas democrat, outlined a "battalion of death" to fight for constitutional government.

ABNORMAL EXPORT SITUATION IN OIL INDUSTRY MAY CARE FOR USUAL FALL DEMAND DECLINE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Bureau of mines officials said today an "abnormal export situation" in the crude oil industry, with considerable oil going to the east, probably would counteract the usual fall decline in oil demand and requirements.

A bureau has estimated the October market demand for United States oil at 3,568,100 barrels, or 58,800 barrels more than the daily average estimated for September.

While records of exports to China and Japan for the last two months have not been made available here, those for the first six months of 1937 show exports of crude oil to Japan totaled 7,007,806 barrels for the period.

This compares with exports of 4,842,605 barrels to Japan for the first six months of 1936.

There were no shipments of crude to China either for the first six months of 1936 or 1937. It was explained American oil is not refined in China.

Exports of gasoline to Japan for the first six months of 1937 amounted to 593,657 barrels compared with 278,911 during the first six months of 1936. Exports to China decreased for the comparative period, however. During the first six months of 1937 they were 71,090 barrels and for the first six months of 1936 totaled 207,468 barrels.

Bureau records also show exports of gas oil and fuel oil from the United States to both Japan and China increased during the comparative period. During the first six months of 1937 these exports to Japan totaled 5,372,348 barrels compared with 4,713,740 for the same 1936 months while exports to China amounted to 360,198 barrels compared with 95,447 for the same comparative

HOLBROOK ANSWERS ALLRED DEMAND FOR ADDITIONAL TAXES

MANY REVENUE - RAISING BILLS INTROUCED IN THE HOUSE; TO BE SIFTED

AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Thomas Jefferson Holbrook of Galveston, member of the Texas senate the past 15 years, replied at length today to Governor James V. Allred's demand for many more taxes and his refusal to submit the subject of governmental economies.

Nearly one-third of the house membership crowded into the chamber and large numbers of outsiders flocked to the galleries to hear Senator Holbrook's "answer to the throne," which had been well publicized in advance.

"I am both alarmed and chagrined," he said, "at the governor's attitude on the matter of taxation which concerns the happiness and welfare of the people mor than all other issues combined."

He charged the governor raised a "smoke screen" in his message on the legislature's opening day. Allred, he said, approved bills increasing the tax burden by $10,000,000 and had asked for $15,000,000 more for each of the next two election on an economy platform.

A "reply" to Holbrook's reply was scheduled in the house soon with Rep. Harry N. Graves, Georgetown veteran, carrying the torch.

House More Friendly.

The house has been much more friendly to the governor's tax program than the senate and observers freely predicted the lower chamber would comply at least in part at the current special session with the chief executive's request for more revenues.

Holbrook urged abolition of the liquor control board, elimination of $500,000 from the rural school aid appropriation, delaying institution of teachers' pensions and aid to the dependent children and blind, and legislation to strengthen delinquent tax collections.

Allred declined to submit governmental re-organization because he feared th result would be an increase in appropriations rather than a decrease. He pointed out that he helped the taxpayers by vetoing many millions in appropriations last spring.

Twenty-six bills, which would raise the tax on nearly everything from sulphur to whiskey, hit the house hopper, and the revenue and taxation committee expected to start sifting them later in the day.

One would raise the liquor tax four cents a gallon but its main purpose was abolition of the liquor board. Among others were the familiar proposals to legalize whiskey sales by the drink and increase imposts on oil, sulphur and corporation franchises.

The first move to liberalize the old age pension law failed when a bill by Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene was thrown out on a point of order. The proposal would have forbidden the pension organization to deny applications because children of applicants were able to support them.

Lawmakers Study Revenue Sources

AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Texas lawmakers, spurred by a ringing appeal from Gov. James V. Allred, grappled today with the problems: Is additional revenue necessary and, if so, where shall we get it?

Methods of obtaining more money which were expected to receive consideration in the house of representatives, birthplace by law of taxation legislation, included:

Increasing the tax on oil, Texas' leading industry, from 2 3-4 to 6 per cent.

Raising the levy on sulphur, of which the state produces three-fourths of the world's supply from $1.03 to $2 a ton.

Boosting the 3 per cent current natural gas tax.

Doubling corporation franchise taxes.

Placing a levy on motion picture admissions of 40 cents and higher.

Forcing collection of the property tax on automobiles, which most owners escape.

Giving the state more power to collect delinquent taxes.

Governor Allred said yesterday about $15,000,000 a year additional would be needed for old age pensions, aid to the needy blind and dependent children, the state's share of a teachers' retirement fund and to wipe out a $15,000,000 state treasury deficit.

Many legislators, especially senators, declared there was no need for more money but that economies should be effected.

On file in the house was a resolution calling for immediate adjournment with the suggestion the governor call back the legislators to work out economies. Another would create a committee of members from both houses to investigate mounting costs of government and report to the general session which will meet in 1939.

Possibility of consideration of a general or selective sales tax loomed but the proposition was not thought to have sufficient support for enactment. It was opposed by the governor, though favored by a group of senators and representatives.

Would Boost Resources Levy

AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The Texas house heard today for the first time the new argument that the state should boost its levy on natural resources to prevent the debt-burdened federal government from slapping a tax on them.

The speaker, Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, said he would not presume to advise the legislators except he considered the threat of heavy federal imposts on oil and other resources a "very real one."

"Why should a representative from Neew York," he inquired, "vote for higher tax rates on the incomes of his people when the natural resources in faraway states can stand a larger levy?"

AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The way to a man's heart is through is stomach.

Governor James V. Allred may be traveling the same route to win legislative minds to his tax program.

The governor served this menu to members of the house revenue and taxation committee when he entertained at the mansion last night:

Pineapple juice cocktail, lettuce and tomato salad, roast beef, red apple and cherries, sweet potatoes with marshmallows, squash casserole cocoanut cream pie, coffee and rolls.

Later everyone talked over tax problems, and the governor said it was the consensus new revenue was needed, which is what he has been advocating.

APPLICATIONS FOR SCHOOL STATE AID ARE SENT AUSTIN

Applications for state aid for salaries, high school tuition and transportation for 23 Navarro county schools were forwarded to the Texas State Department of Education, Austin, Wednesday by G. H. Brown, Navarro county school superintendent.

The salary aid applications are for school districts to enable those schools with affiliation to conduct the term for full nine months and for the unaffiliated schools for eight months.

The tuition aid can be procured to pay the tuition where the sending district is unable to pay the district where the students are transferred. One requirement for this aid is that the district show that it has a 50-cent school tax rate and is unable to pay the full amount of tuition required.

The maximum allowance for transportation is $2 per child per month, Superintendent Brown pointed out.

The schools making the application Wednesday were Rice, Lockhart, Powell, Mildred, Zion's Rest, Emhouse, Cade, Rushing Dresden, Union High, Mt. Nebo, Richland Ash Creek, Wilson, Purdon, Corbet, Bryan, Barry, Blooming Grove, Dawson, Navarro, Raleigh and Spring Hill.

LEGISLATURE

ernment a bid of $250,000 for establishment of a cotton research laboratory in Texas was thrown out on a point of order that it did not come within the governor's call.

The senate adopted a house resolution asking the government to place more cotton classers in this state.

Both houses adjourned until Monday after brief sessions. There is nothing for either branch to do until the house revenue committee begins acting on tax bills.

Proposed creation of an interim committee to make an exhaustive governmental survey was buried by the house. Opponents of the resolution said the legislature could reduce governmental expenses without any committee's recommendation if it was of a mind to do so and the governor would open the subject.

Would Cut State's Expenditures First

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A majority of a senate committee investigation cost of state government recommended today the legislature refrain from voting new taxes until expenses reach the "lowest point possible consistent with efficient and economical administration."

Senators T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, R. A. Weinert of Seguin and Albert Stone of Brenham signed the report. Joe Hill of Henderson was not a signatory and W. Collie of Eastland, fifth member, advised a blend of increased taxes and governmental economy as a solution for the state's financial problems.

The majority group recommended:

Recall of all appropriations for the biennium and reducing them $3,500,000 for each year.

Immediate collection of delinquent taxes due the state.

Allocation of all occupation taxes "as provided by the constitution."

Administration of old age assistance in line with Governor James V. Allred's interpretation in a message to the 44th legislature which read in part: "We want to take care of our needy aged, but it is another thing when it comes to the matter of taking money from industrious and thrifty people to give to people who do not need it x x x."

No new or additional taxes at this time.

Not Mandate For New Taxes.

The report stated neither the broadened social security program authorized by constitutional amendment or adjusting the general fund deficit was a mandate to levy new or additional taxes "so long as there is any other reasonable alternative."

"Of the course, the easy way to solve the problem is to reach into the pockets of the people and take money without stint," the report continued, "but ordinary prudence and fragality, and a slight concern for those who are bearing the brunt of our tax burden, will make this solution the last to be applied.

"After a careful consideration, we have concluded that a proper administration of fiscal affairs of the state does not necessitate additional tax burdens at this time."

The group took the view more economical administration would reduce the deficit more rapidly than it was created and permit operation of additional social security.

Reducing appropriations which this year are $10,262,216 in excess of last would not do violence to any department, said the report. It held further that departmental income from special fees would exceed operating expenses by $1,600,000 which should be applied to the general fund.

School Fund Excess.

It charged the legislature had "cut deep" into occupational tax revenues to finance the school fund in excess of constitutional limitations and to the embarrassment of general revenue.

Majority committeemen contended at least $10,000,000 of an estimated $14,000,000 delinquent ad valorem taxes could be collected by a "reasonable amount of diligence and energy."

Committeemen advocated creating liens on property of old age assistance recipients to secure repayment to the state and reduce the rolls to 80,000 or 85,000.

They suggested financing aid to the blind through eliminating waste and extravagance "in the attempt to enforce the liquor law." Financing aid to destitute children could come from rewritting appropriation bills and saving excess and unitemized special taxes from dissipation, the report contended.

Regarding teacher retirement to which the state must contribute an estimated $1,500,000 annually, the group thought its operation could be delayed since benefit payments will not be made before another general session of the legislature.

Middle Road Policy Advocated by Collie

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A middle road between increased taxes and governmental economies was advocated by Senator Wilbourne B. Collie of Eastland, member of the famed "economy and efficiency" committee, here today.

Making a separate report from the committee, Collie, who said he favored neither increases in appropriations or taxes, declared appropriations should be reduced, delinquent taxes collected and new sources of revenue developed.

The soft-spoken member of the upper legislative chamber found the state needed $12,600,000 new revenue annually "if the people are given the new services they have demanded," of which $2,000,000 would go to retiring the general fund deficit.

"Improved business conditions should greatly increase revenue," he said, "but the receipts will not equal increased appropriations, to say nothing of retiring the deficit and raising $7,200,000 a year for social security measures and the teachers retirement system."

Collie urged fees "earmarked" for special purposes be deposited in the state treasury and the legislature assume control over them.

He disagreed with other members of the group who recommended reallocation to the general fund revenues in excess of the 25 per cent now going to the available school fund because schools had based their budgets on anticipated receipts of a $22 per capita apportionment.

Sub-Committees In Quest For Taxes

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Subgroups of representatives worked fouriously today at laying a basis for extracting more money as painlessly as possible from the taxpayer.

While they labored, the rest of the state's legislative machinery dabbled at minor matters.

Bolted into prominence by Gov. James V. Allred's demands for additional funds to support a social security program and wipe out a $15,000,000 deficit," sub-committees of the house of representatives' revenue and taxation committee sweated to meet an early deadline for reports.

The most important group, that considering the major proposals of omnibus, income, corporation franchise, intangible assets and natural resource tax bills, was to make its recommendations Monday.

After that there probably will be hearings, arguments, amendments and finally consideration by the entire house membership. Approved there, the proposals face identical procedure in the senate where a bloc favoring economy instead of higher taxes is expected to make trouble and possibly throw out the lot.

The house committee set the governor's "$15,000,000 annually" appeal as a ceiling in calculatnig increases.

The senate cannot turn a hand until the house sends over its approved bills.

Suit Is Dropped.

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A bill of discovery suit against Colonel E. O. Thompson, railroad commission member, was dropped from a district court docket here today.

Plaintiffs O. C. Watson and B. C. Antrobus of Donley county, who claimed a judgment of $51,675 they obtained on promissory notes in 1933, were granted a nonsuit. They had filed the bill of discovery asking that Thompson be required to disclose his assets.

Foresees Federal Taxes.

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred expressed alarm today that if Texas did not tax oil resources adequately the federal government would.

Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, addressing the Texas House of Representatives recently voiced the same opinion.

Governor Allred said the U. S. Senate in August adopted a joint resolution directing the U. S. attorney general to investigate the federal government's claim to oil in submerged lands along the coast to which states long have asserted sovereignty. He did not know whether the national house approved the resolution.

"I believe Poage was right," the governor said.

Wanted to Be Jockey.

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Scores of boys who seek page jobs at every session of the legislature have their hats off today to Mark McWhorter, 15, an Austin youth.

His plea for work went like this: He wanted to be a jockey but the legislature had repealed race track betting.

He got the job.

To Seek Funds Due.

DALLAS, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Representatives of 60 Texas counties will meet in Austin next Tuesday, draft a bill for appropriation of $640,000 owed the min back state fees, and request Gov. James V. Allred to submit the measure to the current special session for immediate action, Auditor John L. Crosthwait of Dallas county announced today.

Renewed Lobby Fight.

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—J. Bryan Bradbury, militant young representative from Abilene, today renewed his fight against lobbying abuses.

He proposed creation of another house standing committee with broad powers of inquiring into lobbyists' activities. The number of corporation lobbyists at the current session is unusually large due to its being a tax-raising meeting.

Tyler Roses Presented.

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A delegation from Tyler made legislators, lobbyists and state officials "rose-conscious" today.

The group brought 3,000 roses to the capitol to give office holders an idea of the beauty of the annual East Texas Rose Festival at Tyler October 8-10. Pretty stenographers penned buds on everyone in the senate and house chambers and galleries.

T. L. Beauchamp and Dewey Lawrence were spokesmen for the delegation.

SINO-JAP

Shanghai and will sail tomorrow for Hongkong.

China today banned the export of her supplies of mercury which are vital to munitions manufacture. Japan formerly imported two-thirds of the Chinese supply.

While Japanese warplanes were bombing the entire Shanghai front, similar raids were in progress on Chinese troop concentrations at the secondary positions on the Manziang-Kiating line.

Chinese airdromes at Soochow, Ningpo, Hangchow and Chinhai on a radius roughly 100 miles from hanghai were also bombed, a Japanese spokesman announced.

Japanese Defend Raids on Nanking

TOKYO, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Japanese government today countered a firm American protest against the "unwarranted" bombardment of Nanking with the declaration that air raids to destroy the base of resistance at the Chinese capital were strategically necessary.

The short Japanese reply to the United States note of Sept. 22 was presented to Ambassador Joseph Grew and forwarded to the state department in Washington. The foreign office said that identical copies were handed to the British and French representatives in Tokyo. Both nations entered similar representations.

Japan asserted she did not intend to cause damage to non-combatants and had already vowed it was her policy to respect the lives and property of citizens of other nations.

The American protest also informed Japan she would be held fully responsible for any damage which might be suffered by Americans and to this Japan replied her intentions were "as stated in a letter dated Aug. 31."

Japanese Answer Not Surprising

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Official circles received without surprise the Japanese reply to Secretary Hull's protest against the bombing of Chinese noncombatants.

Although no formal comment was forthcoming immediately, some disappointment was known to be felt over the lack of any specific guarantee by Japan to halt such air raids.

Officials refused to indicate whether some further American diplomatic action might be contemplated. There was a disposition in some administration quarters, however, to regard the issue as closed for the moment—now that this government's view that aerial bombing of non-combatants is inhumane and illegal has been placed on record at Tokyo.

Even so, responsible quarters emphasized that the United States has no intention of "co-operating" with the Japanese military to the extent of moving its diplomatic representatives in China every time the Nipponese command warns that foreigners risk grave personal danger unless they seek safety.

May Yet Assume An Issue.

That this subject yet may assume an issue of importance in American relations with Tokyo was indicated to some in the sharp language used by Secretary Hull in protesting against the warning broadcast by the Japanese naval commander in Shanghai of a contemplated raid on Nanking.

Informed circles expresed the view that the Japanese rejoinder to this protest hardly can be regarded as satisfactory. In effect it asked this government to consent to the right of Japan to dictate the movements of American diplomats in China.

Dissapointing to a lesser extent, but also not particularly surprising to officials here, high sources indicated, was the reiterated refusal of the Japanese government to acknowledge responsibility for damages suffered by American nationals in China as a result of Japanese military operations.

Responding to Secretary Hull's warning that Japan would be held accountable for such damages, the Tokyo government merely called this government's attention to a previous communication, dispatched to Washington on August 31, informing the United States that Japan could not admit responsibility in principle because it considered China as responsible for the present hostilities.

Chinese Junks Destroyed.

HONGKONG, Sept. 30.—(AP)—systematic destruction of scores of Chinese junks at Swatow was eported today by the Central (Chinese) News Agency.

Japanese from three warships seized and burned tne junks yesterday, the agency said.

Air raiders yesterday bombed Tsingyuen, a city north of Canton, destroying a school, a Confucian Hall, some houses and causing civilian casualties estimated at 200.

Official Inquiry Opened.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—An informed source announced today that British colonial authorities at Hongkong had opened an official inquiry into the reported sinking of a fleet of Chinese fishing junks by a Japanese submarine.

Some 300 Chinese lives were said to have been lost in the attack on the vessels, many of which were reportedly under Hongkong registry and, consequently, British protection.

Aircraft Sold to Chinese.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The British air ministry disclosed today the government had sanctioned officially the sale of British military aircraft to the Chinese government.

The Gloster Aircraft Company already has delivered an unspecified number of heavily armed fighting planes and holds permits to export more. The permission to sell the British planes was given before the outbreak of the undeclared war with Japan, an air ministry official said.

Want Boycott Jap Goods.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The British labor party, avowedly indignant at Japanese aerial bombardment of Chinese cities, planned today to demand an emergency session of parliament as the first step toward a world boycott of Japanese goods.

Leaders of the Free Churches, meeting at the City Temple, added weight to labor's demand for action with a sharp resolution urging the British government and the League of Nations to "stop Japanese atrocities by any means possible."

Dr. Frederick W. Norwood struck the key note of the meeting with the heated declaration:

"At present I would not buy anything that came out of Japan if my life depended on it."

Chinese Clans Uniting

SHANGTAI, Sept. 30.—(AP)—An American observer declared today that China's clans are uniting against the common foe as never before in the celestial land's three thousand year history.

"So long as China has iron for trench spades and steel for big swords, Japan can never conquer her," said John Early Baker of Eagle, Wisconsin, director-general of China's national famine relief commission.

He returned to Shanghai today after spending nearly six months in a survey of conditions in the great Yangtze Valley.

While many waslords in Szechuan and other rich provinces operated independent governments for centuries past, they are coming unreservedly to Nanking's aid now, Baker said.

to save the constitution and government?"

Sumners told newsmen he was not particularly referring in that sentence to the court right or any other controversial issue.

"What I am getting at is fundamentals. I believe that the court controversy—as much as I tried to avoid it—has proven of far more good than injury in stirring up an interest in government and making the people think—getting them on the job.

"The time has come when individuals cannot consider the cost to themselves or their political fortunes. We are going to be at the peak of the governmental crisis in two or three years. We've got to balance the budget, decentralize the government and make the people shoulder the responsibility of government."

Reason For Rejection.

The so-called Black resolution was rejected by the resolutions committee because "there is nothing now pending in respect of which the association could take any effective action if it undertook the inquiry proposed.

The committee merely recommended "the resolution be not adopted."

Its consideration was set as the last point of business among the dozen resolutions awaiting action.

The convention customarily follows committee recommendations.

In his extemporaneous speech late last night Sumners said:

"Governments are not accidents.

"Anglo-Saxon history has been free of dictators because the Anglo-Saxons have developed a genius for detecting emergencies and marching rapidly to meet them. We never have had a Hitler or a Mussolini in Anglo-Saxon government because we have always followed principles, not leaders.

"The people learn to govern by governing. The reason why we are in a fix now is because the people turned their back on government and couldn't be bothered. When the people quit thinking about government, someone else does the thinking for them and charges so much per think."

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Almost as quietly as it appeared when introduced at the convention opening, a resolution to investigate the fitness of Justice Hugo L. Black for the supreme court came before the American bar association assembly for action today.

The resolutions committee reached its conclusion on this and 15 other suggestions in closed sessions. Doubt the Black resolution would be recommended for adoption dominated corridor talk.

It was the last business of the morning schedule.

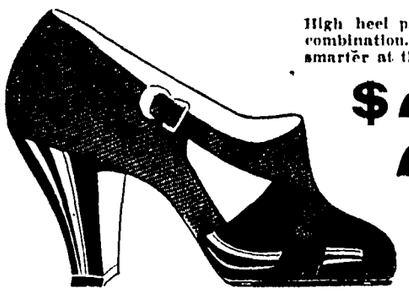

The supreme court issue, a constantly recurring topic for the convention, cropped up again last night in a speech by Rep. Hatton W. Sumners of Texas, chairman of the house judiciary committee and an opponent of President Roosevelt's proposal.

Sumners said he saw the issue "sending lines of cleavage through the people and through the departments of government."

"As a matter we were dying of inaction,' he said, "and I believe this agitation has done more to make the people think, to make them return to free government, than anything else in the last two decades."

He said it was up to the people to take the responsibility for government and "if the people' don't carry on the government a dictator is absolutely certain."

SEVENTH ANNUAL PRISON RODEO WILL BE OPENED SUNDAY

GOVERNOR ALLRED TO LEAD PROMINENT TEXANS TO HUNTSVILLE, OCT. 3D

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 30.—(Spl.)—The opening performance Sunday, October 3, of the seventh annual prison rodeo will be witnessed by a host of Texas luminaries, including Governor James V. Allred, Secretary of State Edward Clark, and members of the legislature.

O. J. S. Ellingson, general manager of the Texas prison system, announced today that preparations were being made to entertain the governor, who is an enthusiastic rodeo fan. The governor and his party will be guests at the general manager's home.

Governor Allred told convention members in Atlantic City recently that the Texas prison rodeo is the greatest show on earth, and invited them to attend. He told Mr. Ellington that life, a pictorial magazine, would probably have a representative in Huntsville to take action pictures during one of the programs.

The governor and party may tour the prison before the rodeo to inspect the modern dining hall under construction, and the hospital which was recently completed.

Last year Governor Allred rode Bonnie, a beautiful paint horse owned by Captain A. E. Owen of the Harlem farm, at the opening of one of the performances. "I hope those boys (the convicts) get as big a thrill out of the rodeo as I do on this good-looking horse," he said. "This is a big day in my life.'

General Manager O. J. Ellington announced completion of the new grandstand at Prison Stadium, adding that everything is in readiness for the big opening performance.

Two Hours of Thrills.

Beginning with the Mad Scramble, unusual opening event which will take place promptly at 2 p. m., there will follow a full two hours of thrills, chills and excitement as outlaw riders and outlaw animals turn the arena into a maelstrom of whirlwind action to put on the only show of its kind in the world.

Because of their failure to pass a severe test for fighting spirit, endurance, and bucking ability, several rodeo steers were cut back out of the large herd driven here from bottomland pastures last week. These were replaced with the meanest, wildest Brahma bulls the system has been able to find. Now every animal in the rodeo corral is a twisting, turning, fighting hunk of cussedness.

More than one hundred convict performers are in top shape, having been in training several weeks. They are all set to take the fire and fight out of the roughest, toughest animal in the lot—maybe!

The prison orchestra will entertain patrons at intervals during the big show. A number of musicians have been brought in from various farms to practice with the regulars, and this new orchestra is the largest ever to appear in prison stadium. A trumpter who played "big time" in an eastern night club has arranged the numbers for each of the four big Sunday performances.

An elaborate public address system has already been installed and tests reveal the announcer's voice will carry distinctly to the remotest part of the stands.

Reserve seat sales thus far indicate a record crowd at the opening performance, and a capacity attendance is expected during each show.

87 SPEED RECORDS BROKEN TO MAKE TIRES SAFER FOR YOU

Never Before Have Tires Been Put to Such Gruelling Torture

Ab Jenkins, World's Safest Driver, Establishes 87 New Records for Safety, Speed, Mileage and Endurance . . . He Drove 3,774 Miles in 24 Hours on the Sharp Granite-like Surface of the Bonneville Salt Beds at Average Speed of 157.27 Miles an Hour

AT SPEEDS as high as 180 miles an hour — with the hot, coarse, abrasive salt grinding, tearing, scorching his tires — Ab Jenkins' special racer, weighing nearly three tons, pounded over the Bonneville Salt Beds last week at such terrific speed that it caused the surface to break up. Before the end of the run the track was so pitted and rough that it was almost impossible to hold the car on its course. Yet Jenkins set 87 new World, International and American speed records on Firestone Tires.

Building tires capable of establishing such records is made possible only because of patented Firestone manufacturing processes. These exclusive features enable Firestone to provide car owners with tires that are extra safe.

For the greatest protection of yourself and your family equip your car with Firestone TRIPLE-SAFE Tires. By TRIPLE-SAFE we mean —

1 PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING — The scientific tread design gives longer non-skid mileage and stops your car up to 25% quicker.

2 PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS — Firestone Tires run up to 28 degrees cooler because every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. This counteracts the internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

3 PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES — Two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread add strength to the tire and give extra protection against punctures.

Now is the time to make your car tire-safe for fall and winter driving. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new FIRESTONE TRIPLE-SAFE Tires—the safest tires that money can buy!

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—(Spl.)—"Pledge ribbons," insignias of social prestige which constitute an important part of many college girls' careers, have been pinned on three Corsicana girls who are attending the University of Texas this year.

Misses Sara Holmes and Anna Mary Pierce are members of Pi Beta Phi, and Miss Fanne Halbert is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

After an extended "rushing" period, with two and sometimes three social events scheduled daily by each sorority, preference slips were signed by both "rushees" and sororities. There are fourteen Greek letter sororities at the University.

Farm-to-City Flow Begins Again

Checked for five years by the depression, the flow of rural residents to the city is being resumed. Half a million more moved from country to industrial center last year than moved from city to country. Although the agricultural areas registered a net gain of some 1,700,000 persons from 1930 through 1935, when unemployment was at its peak, since 1910 there has been a decrease of one per cent in the number living in the country in contrast to a gain of 40 per cent in the urban population. Chief factor accounting for this has been the mechanization of farming, decreasing the amount of man power needed to produce farm commodities.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Oak Valley Club.

Mrs. Edgar White entertained the Oak Valley Home Demonstration Club, with a spend-the-day party, in her home Wednesday, September 29.

The following menu was served on card tables in the living room: Baked chicken and dressing, vegetable salad, fried chicken, peppers, cucumber pickles, combination fruit salad, tea, cake and ice cream.

After lunch the grab-box was opened. A gift had been placed in this box earlier in the day by each one present. These were numbered and each one drew a member for a gift. This proved to be a very interesting way to raise funds for the club, as 15c was paid for each number drawn.

A very enjoyable day was spent by the following members; Mesdames Loyd Averitt, J. D. McManus, John Howell, Beden Owen, R. M. Hodge, T. E. Young, J. E. Taylor, P. P. McKinney, W. N. McNeill, Misses Hortense Waters and Nellie Beale. Guests of the club were Miss Inez Harris, Mrs. J. P. Bryson, and Mrs. C. A. Bell.

The club will have the next regular meeting with Mrs. R. M. Hodge, October 11.

All members who can bring a quart jar of canned fruit and one of a non-acid vegetable for the jar contest. Also, bring any canned products you wish to be entered in the club booth at the county fair.

CORSICANA, TEX., OCT. 1, 1937.

LONGEST PARADE

This is the big parade season in Europe. There are military drills on a grand scale in Germany as Hitler watches the annual army maneuvers. There are formal military reviews in the other strongholds of militarism.

But nothing we've heard of anywhere else equals the parade of the American Legion up Fifth Avenue in New York City. It began a little before eight o'clock on the morning of Sept. 21 and was still going more than sixteen hours later, early in the morning of September 22. More than 2,000,000 people were on the sidelines watching the colorful procession and thrilling to the lively music of the bands.

The remarkable thing about this parade of former soldiers and war workers is that it wasn't a military demonstration at all and it wasn't compulsory. The Legionnaires chose to do it is part of their annual reunion, as college alumni parade at class reunions. The people in the reviewing stands were not a dictator and his aides but Legion officials and public officials from all parts of the country. The throngs of delighted though weary spectators on the sidelines were there to see a grand show. Their presence had not been required by a fuehrer or duce demanding a patriotic demonstration. Nobody had to go who didn't want to do so.

Altogether it seems to have been a typically American performance, with no sinister implications or threats to anyone's peace.

LET HIM PASS

Among good suggestions on safe driving made in a letter to the editor, here is the most unexpected—and perhaps the most sensible: "When a car is passing you, take your foot off the gas. That doubles his speed and gets him past quicker."

It may seem, at first thought, simply a generous act. But it means far more that that. Many of the worst accidents have always come from drivers making it harder for cars behind to pass them, instead of making it easier. Often the situation develops into a race, with both cars going faster and faster. Then tragedy is imminent at a turn of the road, the approach of another car or the sudden appearance of a steep hill ahead—and possibly cars coming up. Many a driver will bear witness that his closest shaves on the road have been of this sort.

It used to be regarded, in the early days of motoring, as legitimate sport to try to beat the other car. That notion has largely vanished, since almost every car now will go faster than anybody has any business going, and everybody knows it. Yet there still survives among many drivers a curious feeling that there is an indignity about letting somebody in a hurry get ahead.

If the fellow behind is a speed fiend, the sooner he passes you the better for you.

There seems nothing else to do in the Mediterranean but treat submarines as pirate craft, and sink 'em on suspicion. They should all have been sunk by agreement after the last war.

Adolf Hitler must be a strong man, or he couldn't stand at salute while 600,000 paraders march past him.

When John Bull's tail has been twisted a few more times, he'll quit roaring and start doing something.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

THE BOSS AND THE BOY

"What's wrong?" the boss inquired. The boy
Replied: "My task I don't enjoy.
I want a chance to show to you
The sort of work that I can do
But this is tedious, dull and slow.
You'll never learn how much I know
Nor just how clever I can be
By giving such a job to me.
I have ambition. What I seek
Is not the bottom but the peak."

The boss replied: "Do you suggest
This task's not worthy of your best?
You slight it now because it seems
So distant from your youthful dreams.
What would you say if I should tell
You've never once performed it well?
And had I greater tasks to do
I should not offer them to you.
To larger posts I'd never call
The men who'd failed me in the small."

"But," said the boy, "I cannot see
How such a task can prosper me.
It seems to me a dismal fate
To have to come to work I hate.
Im telling you I want a chance
To prove myself and to advance,
But I can see no future here."
The boss replied: "Now that is queer!
That's something that I didn't know
When I began there years ago."

GREENBELT.

That little town of Greenbelt, Md., intended as a "model community," has had plenty of publicity and is going to have a great deal more, for three excellent reasons.

It has been one of the most controversial New Deal enterprises. It was planned by Professor Tugwell, long regarded as the leading "braintruster" at Washington, and now making molasses for a private concern. And the dominating spirit of the venture is now a wealthy storekeeper, E. A. Filene of Boston, who has given $1,000,000 to carry out some of his economic ideas.

Greenbelt is to be operated as the first American community on a co-operative basis. Every business in this town of 900 families will be owned and operated by its customers. If there is any profit, it will come to them in lower prices. If there is loss, they will bear it. They will pay rent to the government for its investment.

They will have the advantage of an entirely fresh start, impossible in an established community. There is no town till they move in and start operating in the triple capacity of producers, distributors and consumers.

There were various cooperative communities, mostly religious, in this country in the last century. They were naturally far more primitive than Greenbelt. Some of them succeeded for a considerable time, eventually dying out with the people who established them, for lack of new members.

WAR TRADE INSURANCE

There are more means than an embargo to check the shipping of munitions to belligerents. The Institute of London Underwriters has just abolished standard insurance quotations on shipments of munitions and oil destined for China and Japan. It leaves to individual underwriters discretion concerning rates on individual cargoes. This is expected to halt a good deal of traffic. Only shippers willing to pay extraordinary premiums will continue in the trade.

Further, the institute doubled the premium chargeable on all other cargoes for ports south of Shanghai. It put Russian ships in the Mediterranean on the same basis as Spanish ships, requiring of each separate insurance arrangements between individual shippers and underwriters.

Prohibitive insurance rates of course, do not stop all trade in the war zones. Yet they do curtail it considerably, and such shippers as continue their business must pay dearly for their financial protection.

Another slant on that Asiatic war: For the first time, European financiers are willing to finance a Chinese war. And they're pretty good guessers in London, Paris and Berlin.

"Rich styles" are coming in, as a fashion expert tells us; but it isn't stylish any more to be rich.

Playing No Favorites!

WOMEN WAR ACES.

Rear Admiral A. B. Cook, chief of naval aeronautics, thinks women will fly in future wars. He sees no reason why they shouldn't be used behind the lines to carry messages at first, taking over the mail planes to release male pilots, and later, if it became necessary, engaging in actual combat.

It sounds plausible. Madame Chiang Kai Shek, wife of the Chinese leader and head of military aviation in the present war, would probably agree. Women make good flyers, as our recent air races showed.

The prospect, however, of women operating bombing planes, and engaging in such slaughter of men, women and children as seems to be called for in the latest war patterns, is not pleasant to contemplate.

DISTURBED MARKET

"Business sees the 'go' sign head," wrote a business commentator just before Labor Day. Nearly all industrials, he said, were "looking for good business the rest of the year."

About a week later came a sudden slump in the stock market, the greatest in four years.

It shows how disturbed markets are nowadays. If it isn't politics, it's wars and rumors of wars. Lately we've been having both.

In what we used to call "the good old days," wars seemed to help business. We know now, after our experience with the World War, its mirage profits and subsequent depression, that while an adventurer here and there makes real money, wars destroy property and prosperity and pass the loss around.

The recent stock slump probably wouldn't have occurred just now if American manufacturers were making war materials in the good old style for the fighting powers; it would have been delayed, to hit us unexpectedly later on. We doubtless lose nothing in the long run by federeal laws to keep us neutral and, as far as possible, out of the munitions game.

But we might as well recognize, now and always, that we all lose, in business and in living, whenever foreign property is being destroyed and customers are being impoverished and killed at the present rate.

Prizes should go not only to the hard-hitter, but to the fighter who can "take it."

What they need to get after those pirate submarines is a diving warplane.

AUTOMOBILE AND SIX CASES OF WHISKEY ARE SEIZED TUESDAY

An automobile and six cases of whiskey were seized by state, Navarro and Freestone county officers after a chase near the Navarro-Freestone county line Tuesday morning. The driver of the car drove his automobile though rough country ahead of the pursuing officers, turned it into a ditch near a bluff and made his escape on foot, according to Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd, one of the raiding party.

The whiskey and car were taken to Fairfield. State Liquor Officer W. M. Cooper, Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd and two Freestone county deputies participated in the chase.

Recent Bride Is Complimented With Shower on Friday

Miss Velda Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Collins of Navarro, who became the bride of Reuben Crouch, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Crouch, 509 North Commerce, on Sunday, Sept. 12, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower Friday afternoon by Mrs. L. S. Lee and Mrs. W. H. Tipton at the home of Mrs. Lee, 800 South Sixteenth street.

A red and white color scheme was chosen in the decorations of the home and in the refreshment plate.

In a clever contest appropriate to the occasion, Mrs. C. M. Starks won first prize and Mrs. Gordon Collins, aunt of the bride, won the second. Both were pieces of cut glass which were presented the honoree.

Leland Lee, Jr., accompanied at the piano by his sister, Peggy Lee, sang, as only this talented young singer can, "Never in a Million Years," and Peggy gave as a piano solo, "When My Dream Boat Comes Home."

At the conclusion of the musical numbers, a large basket, decorated in red and white and filled with packages, was brought in by Peggy Lee and placed before Mrs. Crouch, who was seated in a special chair decorated in the chosen colors.

Assisted by her sister, Miss Merle Collins, Mrs. Crouch opened each package, and passed the gifts around for all to view.

A refreshment plate of rolled pimento cheese sandwiches, pickles, olives, potato chips, red and hearts enscribed "Rip" and "Velda" white mints and fruit punch was served. Plate favors were white in way of formally announcing their wedding to the 30 or more friends present.

Mr. and Mrs. Crouch are at home in the Barth apartments on North Thirteenth street and West Sixth avenue.

Henderson And Navarro Trying To Save Cut-Off

ATHENS, Texas, September 28—In an effort to preserve the Trinity river cut-off of Western Henderson county as one of the few free public fishing pools in East Texas, sportsmen of Henderson and Navarro counties have joined hands in a movement to secure the construction of a new spillway. The spillway which would raise the level of the cut off waters and prevent the cut-off from going dry, will be 66 feet in length, it has been estimated by Game Warden Will Faulk.

The game warden believes that it will be useless to stock the cuto-ff again unless the waters can be preserved through a new spillway as every rain cuts deeper ditches at the dam.

Navarro county officials have offered to pay half the cost of such a spillway and efforts now are being made to get the Henderson county commissioners court to okeh a bill for the remaining half of the cost.

Paul H. Miller, county judge, and E. Y. Cunningham, county auditor, stated Tuesday morning they knew nothing of any movement on the part of Navarro county authorities in the financing of the above proposal, and that it had never been broached at the commissioners court.

Interesting Item Of Fifty Years Ago Recalls History

An item of unusual interest was noted in Sunday's Dallas News in the "Dallas and Texas 50 Years Ago" column.

It was as follows: "Misses M. E. Pope, E. T. Thompson, Hattie Cain, L. Smith, M. Heart, S. J. Evans and J. A. O'Reily arrived, in Corsicana the first of the week to teach in the city public schools."

Miss Mary E. Pope, who lives in Thompson Center, Tenn., visited in the home of Mrs. J. A. Townsend last winter, it will be remembered; Miss Emma T. Thompson married Mr. Fred Freeman and resided here for several years, then moved to Denver, Colo. She is a widow, now, and divides her time between Denver, Colo., and Crockett, Texas, her girlhood home, where two of her sisters reside; Hattie Cain married and lived in Amarillo. After her husband's death she and her daughter returned to her old home in Zaden, Miss., where they now live.

Miss L. Smith is none other than Cosicana's own, beloved Mrs. A. C. Sloan; and Miss Sallie J. Evans is also a resident of this city and has taught continuously in the Corsicana schools. The past two years she has been assistant to the principal of the Sam Houston school. The city schools would not be complete without "Miss Sallie;" and Miss J. A. O'Reily, better known as Miss Josie O'Reily has passed to her reward.

FRENCH ARMAMENT EXPENDITURES MAY BE HIKED SHARPLY

PARIS, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Finance Minister Georges Bonnet proposed today a sharp increase in French armament expenditures in presenting the 1938 ordinary budget bill to parliament.

The budget draft, submitted to the chamber of deputies finance committee, showed total national defense expenditures for 1938, in both ordinary and extraordinary budget, would be 22,087,000,000 francs (about $736,233,333) compared with the 1937 total military expenses of 19,030,000,000 francs (about $634,333,333.)

The budget bill said the increase in ordinary arms spending is due to the rise in prices of equipment, following recent devaluation of the franc, and asserted the boost in extraordinary expenditures is only a temporary measure.

"The weight of military credits is such for all countries in Europe, that under pain of a general financial catastrophe it will be necessary to move in the direction of limitation of armaments," Bonnet said in the bill. "This should permit France to slacken the effort which she accepts at present to assure her security."

MUSSOLINI LEAVES FOR ROME AFTER HIS VISIT TO GERMANY

SHORT PRIVATE CONVERSATION WITH HITLER HELD BEFORE TRAIN LEFT

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini, of Italy for five days the guest of his fascist colleague, Reichsfuehrer Hitler, departed for home this afternoon.

His special train left at 3:50 p. m. (9:50 a. m. EST).

Hitler walked alone with Il Duce to the train, and they had a last conversation of four minutes, with Mussolini leaning out the train window.

Thus the two fascist leaders put finishing touches on talks that brought forth joint declarations reaffirming their close cooperation in European affairs and an appeal for peace.

The visiting premier departed after honoring Germany's world war dead and reviewing a mammoth display of the third Reich's military strength.

Fully a half-million persons jammed on May Field saw Hitler and Mussolini, arm-in-arm, symbolizing Italo-German friendship. The others stood near amplifiers in the drenching rain to hear Il Duce formulate the point creed of fascism and national socialism:

"We both believe in the will as the determining power in the life of peoples - - - we both glorify labor in tis countless aspects as a sign of the nobility of man. We both build on youth which we train to discipline courage ,tenacity love of the fatherland and contempt for the luxurious life - - - Europe of tomorrow will be fascist not through our propaganda but by the logical necessity of events."

BELIEVED RANSOM DEMANDS RECEIVED IN ROSS KIDNAPING

SPECIAL DELIVERY LETTER RECEIVED BY WIFE OF MISSING CHICAGOAN

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Receipts of a special delivery letter which investigators hinted contained ransom demands spurred the inquiry today into the kidnaping of Charles S. Ross, 72-year-old retired manufacturer.

The letter, written in pencil and postmarked Washington, D. C., was delivered to Ross' wife last night. Previously she had expressed confidence the kidnapers who waylaid her husband last Saturday night would establish contact with her.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert, head of the state's attorney's police, said he would neither deny or confirm the report that ransom demands were received.

A belief that demands were made was bolstered by the advent of federal agents in the case. The latter may take action immediately upon receipt of a ransom note. A. H. Johnson acting head of the federal agents here, and an aide went to the Ross apartment last night.

The letter shared attention with a clue to the identity of a man believed to have "put the finger" on the victim for the kidnapers.

Cecil Vandiver, a bellboy at the Fargo Hotel in Sycamore, Ill., saw a stranger talk to Ross in the hotel lobby about an hour before the abduction. Yesterday Vandiver picked from police files a photograph which he said resembled that of the man.

Investigators also searched for the kidnapers' possible hide-outs.

Acting on the theory that the kidnapers rented a suburban home to hold Ross a captive while contacting for ransom, Captain Gilbert ordered a check of real estate agencies for information on houses recently leased.

WALLACE EXPECTED SUGGEST PROCESSING TAX UPON COTTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Informed persons at the agriculture department said today Secretary Wallace will suggest a processing tax on cotton in an address before southern farm leaders at Memphis Friday.

The cabinet member has promised to outline the administration's views on a long-time cotton program.

Senator Smith, (D-SC) chairman of the senate agriculture committee, conferred with Wallace this week. Afterwards he said the secretary promised to clear up "confusion" concerning the loan and subsidy program on this year's large cotton crop. Aides of Wallace said he planned this in the Memphis address.

AAA officials said Wallace also would discuss means of halting the decline in American cotton exports.

Robot Grades 20,000 Freshman Papers Correctly

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Rob the Robot has just completed flawless grading of 20,000 freshman placement examinations for Georgia's university system.

Rob is a mechanical professor perfected by a national machine company and educational foundations.

During the past ten days, Rob took the examination papers from all the schools in the state's university system, absorbed them en toto and spat them back in piles along with the score.

The robot works by electricity, "reading" pencil marks on standard test forms of the true-false or selective question variety. During the 10 days, said F. S. Beers, university examiner, this monster accomplished work which formerly required the combined two weeks effort of some 200 persons throughout the state.

Here is how the cold-hearted grading machine works:

The examination paper, on which the freshman has penciled his "X" mark in either a "yes" or a "no" column, is inserted in the machine. Electrode blades inside Rob descend on the paper and record the position of the mark. The blade then relays an electric impulse to a recording meter which adds up, calculates and registers the grade.

ECONOMY AND NEW TAXES BE COMBINED IN PLAN BY FARMER

FORT WORTH REPRESENTATIVE URGES MIDDLE LINE UPON LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Fiery Clarence E. Farmer of Fort Worth exhorted the Texas House of Representatives to a "middle line" policy of new taxes and economy today.

He asserted the people's mandate, voiced in constitutional amendments authorizing aid to destitute children and needy blind and state contribution to a teachers retirement fund, must be met with new taxes coupled with lopping off unnecessary state services.

Farmer said $36,000,000 was necessary to finance the new social security program and reduce the general fund deficit in the next two years but elimination of some existingg setups, including the liquor board, would contribute.

Pressing a plea for governmental economy, he said one state employe did nothing but clip newspapers for a candidate for office, another drove the car of his employer while a third did not know what his duties were.

Farmer's suggestions for new taxes were aimed principally at oil, pipelines and natural gas.

"If in your judgment the legalization of liquor sales by the drink and return of legalized race track betting will aid the financial problem, then go and get it," he said.

Omnibus Tax Bill May Be Compromise

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—An "omnibus" tax bill—upping existing levies slightly all the way around—loomed large today as a possible compromice to clashing opinion among governmental authorities on taxation.

The thought was predominant in he minds of members of the house revenue and taxation committee, currently the most important legislative group since tax laws must originate in the lower chamber.

The group yesterday decided to glev authors of 24 plans on "How to Get More Money" 10 minutes each to explain them and then map a course for hearings in which opponents and proponents could debate their merits.

In line with swords-point argument elsewhere in governmental chambers, the lawmakers wrangled at length over procedure but the word "omnibus" was frequently heard. A move to start drafting such a proposal, however, found open support lacking.

Listed were bills to tax gross receipts of merchants, manufacturers and utilities, net incomes of corporations and persons, marble machines, cigars, tobacco, mixed alcoholic drinks, whiskey, oil, gas, sulphur carbon black, corporation franchises and admissions to amusements.

Gov. James V. Allred, who asked the lawmakers to raise funds for old age pensions, aid to the adult blind and dependent children, a teachers' retirement plan and to wipe out a $15,000,000 deficit, said:

"The issue is clearly drawn between humanity and dollars!"

It was a reply to pugnacious Senator T. J. Holbrook's denunciation of higher taxes and demands for economy.

Oil Pipelines Can Foot New Tax Bill

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Oil pipelines can foot the bill.

This was the opinion expressed today by Governor James V. Allred on how to meet financial needs of Texas' social security program.

Previously he had told the legislature about $6,000,000 was needed for old age assistance, aid to blind and dependent children and teachers retirement.

"Pipelines could take care of social security needs and not hurt at all," he said in an interview. "They could do it without impairing their earnings."

He did not commit himself on an omnibus tax bill, which is favored by many members and would spread taxes over various sources.

The governor struck back at criticism by Senator T. L. Holbrook of Galveston for not placing economy before new taxes.

He said Holbrook had not read or had disregarded his message to the legislature at the start of the general session last year when he urged economy and recommended substantially the same appropriations as for the previous biennium. The legislature boosted those appropriations about $12,000,000.

"Senator Holbrook was singing a different tune then when he wanted me to approve a tax remission bill for Galveston county," the governor said.

"He has been engaged in a determined sitdown strike in this legislature against all taxes for social security," he said.

Over Half Delinquent Taxes Uncollectable

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—More than half of an estimated $17,500,000 in delinquent ad valorem taxes is uncollectible, Tax Commissioner Albert K. Daniel said today.

In a letter to Governor James V. Allred, Daniel struck at claims of certain state senators that a treasury deficit of $15,000,000 and other revenue needs can be met by collection of delinquencies.

Daniel also charged inconsistency for persons to oppose new taxes and to demand collection of back taxes from the same people.

"It is my official opinion most of these taxes are uncollectible, at least at the present time," he said. "I need only to call your attention to the fact the price of cotton is so slow and uncertain I am very fearful of the ability of farmers to pay even their ad valorem taxes.

"In addition I have a report from the statewide tax survey concerning fictitious and erroneous values upon the tax rolls of this state on which taxes have been assessed and carried as delinquent from year to year, and which to a large extent go to make up the approximate $17,500,000 in delinquent ad valorem taxes now owing the state."

He noted the survey found $9,290,458.41 taxes now shown to be delinquent did not even exist. The figure did not include any estimation of delinquencies on personal property, or the "great number" of assessments within incorporated limits on lots in subdivided additions which have been abandoned.

"I think it is interesting to note our every conservative estimate shows more than half of the delinquent ad valorem taxes, as shown by the comptroller's records, are not only uncollectible but are entirely fictitious," he concluded.

"This fact might be of interest especially to some of the state senators who insist the state's deficit and need for new revenues can be met by collection of delinquent taxes."

Graves Replies to Senator Holbrook

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Harry N. Graves, veteran representative from Georgetown, "read the record" on Sen. T. J. Holbrook of Galveston today in a vigorous reply to Holbrook's argument against any new taxes.

"Consistency is a jewel," he told his colleagues, "but its name is not Holbrook. The Galveston senator now assails the larger expenditures for which the legislature voted a few months ago yet he helped prepare the eleemoswnary appropriations bill and voted for the educational and departmental proposals.

"I wonder if the enormous natural resources interests in Senator Holbrook's district would be pleased with the death of bills proposing a fair tax on them. Let us draw from our vast natural resources store a small portion to help the unfortunates—the needy old people, the blind and the underprivileged children."

Graves' address was a prelude to the start of consideration by house committee of bills seeking to levy almot every conceivable form of tax except sales tax. Governor James V. Allred had called the lawmakers into session this week to raise around $15,000,000 a year in added revenue but a strong senate bloc maintained few if any new taxes were needed.

Referring to Holbrook's stand for abolition of the state liquor control board, Graves said he could readily see why a senator from Galveston, "which always has opposed enforcement of the liquor laws," would take such a position.

Million More In Taxes.

"The liquor board is collecting in excess of $1,000,000 a year more in taxes each year than the preceding collecting agency," he argued.

Rep. Ben F. Cathey of Quitman had sounded the economy there a short time before. He obtained adoption of a resolution requesting the Governor to submit a bill authorizing the moving of state departments outside the capitol to the Confederate Veterans' home. From $100,000 to $150,000 a year in rent would be saved thereby, he contended.

Sponsors of a bill to legalize sales of hard liquor by the drink scored a minor tactical victory when the house voted to re-refer it from the taxation to the liquor traffic committee.

Eight more bills, including one to relegalize racing under the pari-mutuel system of betting and another to boost the tax on marble to 12 cents a ton, on cinnabar ore to the same figure and on other ores to 7 cents a ton, hit the house hopper.

The senate, barred by the constitution from originating revenue legislation, was in recess until tomorrow.

Adjournment Idea Falls

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—An attempt to scuttle the special session of the legislature sagged today.

House members overwhelmingly tabled a resolution for sine die adjournment at 2 p. m. Rep. Frank Mann of Houston its author, hopes members would end the session and that Governor James V. Allred would call another for considering economy instead of new taxes.

Mann was the single member voting against the bill appropriating salary and traveling expenses for the session.

May Repeal Galveston Remisssion

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Rep. L. M. Kenyon of Galveston failed today to block introduction of a bill repealing remission of state advalorem taxes to Galveston county.

Speaker R. W. Calvert overruled his point of order the measure was an appropriation and not within the governor's call for tax-raising laws only.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Abe Mayes of Atlanta, went to committee for hearing.

Previously, Rep. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, whose attack on Senator T. J. Holbrook's plea for state economy rang through the house chamber, questioned the senator's motive in view of $6,000,000 already remitted to Galveston county under the measure.

Ask More Inquiry Funds.

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The house today turned down a request of the head of its insane hospital investigating committee for an additional $1,000 to inquire into "certain allegations" against the institutions at Abilene and Wichita Falls.

Rep. Leland M. Johnson of Waxahachie, the committee chairman, said later the inquiry would continue under the appropriation voted at the last session.

Would Enlarge Powers.

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—(AP)—A bill to enlarge the powers of the Nueces river conservation and reclamation district was introduced in the house today.

Rep. Walter E. Jones of Jourdanton, the author, said it would make certain the district would have the power of condemnation and provide for more frequent meetings of the board of directors.

Finding the Right Buying Price

SMART Buyers watch what their dollar buys and are not lured by an apparent Low Price. There's more to buying Printing Matter than just finding the lowest price. Nothing was ever made but what someone would produce it worse for less money. There's a price for any printed piece—below which, it is just as dangerous to pay less as it is to pay too much. Always consider first what purpose the printed piece must serve and what quality of paper, printing, etc. must be maintained. MUSSOLINI, HITLER DECLARE THEY STAND FOR PEACE OF WORLD

IL DUCE DEFENDS SPANISH POLICY AS EFFORT SAVE EUROPEAN CULTURE

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Peace, Premier Mussolini of Italy and Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Germany told 600,000 Germans and world wide radio audiences tonight, will be the issue from nazi-fascist collaboration.

Der Feuhrer spoke first and briefly at the gala festival in May Field and Olympic stadium, declaring that peace for Germany and Italy is the meaning of the mammoth Fascist-Nazi demonstration of the past four days.

Il Duce, speaking in the German of his host, followed:

"The whole world is tensely asking," Mussolini said, "What will be the result of the Berlin meeting: 'Peace or war'? Both of us, Der Feuhrer and myself can answer with a loud voice: 'peace.'"

Il duce's voice was hoarse, his German perfect but the pronunciation showed a certain stress.

Mussolini spoke twice as long as Hitler, who said but a few words in prefacing the carefully prepared address of his guest.

Hitler bitingly denounced the "democratic, Marxistic international," (communist) while Il Duce predicted that Europe would go fascist "not through our propaganda, but the logic of things."

Mussolini stoutly defended his Spanish policy "where thousands of Italian Fascist volunteers have fallen attempting to have European culture—a culture which still can be rejuvenated if it turns from false and lying god of Geneva and Moscow toward the real truth of our revolution."

Peoples' Meeting.

Hitler said tonight's assembly was a "people's meeting" with the "honest desire to guarantee to our countries a peace not resulting from cowardice, but resulting from a conscious safeguard of our national, spiritual and personal as well as cultural objects and treasures.'

Both Il Duce and der Feuhrer declared their determination to stand by each other, warning that attempts to shake their friendship are bound to fail, because, said Hitler, "of the desire of 115,000,000 persons who compose this meeting tonight (he referred to radio listeners as well as those present)—and the will of the two men who stand before you."

Germany's and Italy's aims are similar in economic as well as other fields Mussolini said, and "without economic independence political independence of the nation itself is likely to fail."

World's Leading Dictators Talk

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The heads of the world's greatest fascist powers, Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler, united today for what official circles pictured as an appeal for peaceful collaboration with all nations of "good will."

Nearly a million residents of Berlin thronged early toward Mayfield Olympic stadium to see and hear Hitler, the host, and Mussolini, the guest, in their world-wide broadcast.

It was the fourth day of the Italian Premier's history-making, five-day visit of state to Germany.

The famous visitor, up early for activities preceding the joint appearance in Mayfield stadium, first inspected relics of Germany's proud military past at the historic Zeughaus on Unter Den Linden.

In that war museum, Il Duce saw weapons wielded by German warriors in conflicts from the time of Frederick the Great down to the World war. Then he motored west to Potsdam and visited the San Souci chateau of Frederick the Great.

En route, Mussolini saw hundreds of thousands of persons on their way to the stadium. They came by street car, bus, train and automobile or afoot, throughout the day.

Many carried their lunch and field kitchens, equipped to serve 100,000 persons, were erected near the stadium.

There was a strong indication that qualifying "strings" were attached to the side-by-side appeal prepared by the two heads of state. The limitation of collaboration with "all other peoples of good will" was sponsored by Mussolini in an exchange of toasts last night at a state banquet in his honor.

That in itself would cover considerable ground—excluding Soviet Russia and Republican Spain, for example. Previous Italo-German manifestations have made clear that the fascist governments do not regard these two as "peoples of good will."

But there was a hint of even greater limitation of the axial amity between Rome and Berlin—this, too, apparently inspired by Il Duce.

The editor-in-chief of Mussolini's Milan newspaper, Il Popolo D'Italia, in an article from Berlin said Hitler and his guest would raise their voices for a "parity of right."

The dispatch, from Giorgio Pini, asserted that peace was the only objective of Mussolini's visit to Germany.

"But peace is only founded on justice and parity of rights," Pini wrote. "Let none insist on sordid fictions too long endured."

The dispatch was marked by such characterizations of Italo-German friendship as:

"It must be shouted aloud that the communion of ideals and interests in the revolutionary week (the period of Mussolinis visit) overcomes completely every original difference."

FIRST FORMAL TALK ON WESTERN TOUR IS ABOUT BETTER LIFE

ALSO PROMISED DEFINITELY BALANCED BUDGET BY NEXT FISCAL YEAR

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

BONNEVILLE DAM, Ore., Sept. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, reviewing his power objectives at this newly completed federal dam, advocated today the "widest possible" use of electricity and forecast a "geographical greater distribution" of population as a result of such use.

Standing on a decorated platform beside the project's administration building, about a quarter of a mile from the dam, he also told the thousands grouped before him his program would not destroy individual liberties.

"My conception of liberty," he said, "does not permit an individual citizen or group of citizens to commit acts of depredation against nature in such a way as to harm neighbors, and especially harm the future generations of Americans."

The President re-defined his eight "little TVA" proposals and struck at those who claimed it would result in a "totalitarian or authoritatian" form of government.

Because of a late start in the day's busy program, the President switched plans and spoke before driving to inspect the towering $51,000,000 dam on the Columbia river.

On the platform were Gov. Charles H. Martin of Oregon, Senators McNary of Oregon, the senate republican leader, Schwellenbach, (D-Wash), Bone (D-Wash), and Congressmen from Oregon, Washington and California.

Governor Martin introduced the president.

Scattered applause and laughter came first when the president rebuked those who objected to governmental interference with what they "miscall" the liberty of the individual.

The president said the Bonneville dam fitted in with his long range program of regional and national planning and added its cost would be returned to the people many times over in "improvement of navigation and transportation, the cheapening of electric power and the distribution of this power to hundreds of small communities within a great radius."

Abstracts Roosevelt Bonneville Address

BONNEVILLE DAM, Ore. Sept. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt stood on this great federal power-navigation project today and asserted its cost would be returned many times over in improved navigation cheaper electricity and distribution of power to "hundreds of small communities within a great radius."

The first formal address of his west coast trip, he tied in this $51,000,000 Columbia basin undertaking with his program for regional and national planning. He declared, too, that instead of spending half its income on armaments as some nations do, America was wiser in building such projects to give "more wealth, better living and greater happiness for our children."

The president also:

Predicted through broader use of electric power a "wider geographical distribution of population" through the building up of smaller communities to prevent undue expansion of "over-large" cities with their high living costs and other disadvantages.

Promised a "definitely balanced" budget by the next fiscal year—July 1, 1938.

Forecast "ultimate development" of the St. Lawrence waterway for power and navigation improvement, a treaty on which with Canada was rejected by the senate several years ago.

Favored a policy of the "widest use" of power at Bonneville, Grand Coule and other federal dams.

Better Land and Water Use

Re-advocated better land use and conservation of water resources.

Denied his proposal would "set up all powerful authorities which would destroy state lines, take away local government and make what people call a totalitarian or authoritatarian or some other kind of a dangerous national centralized control."

"Most people realize,' he said on the latter point, "that the exact opposite is the truth—that regional commissions will be far more closely in touch with the needs of all the localities and all the people in their respective regions than a system of plans which originate in the capital of the nation."

In other words, he added, the responsibility of the federal government for the welfare of its citizens "will not come from the top in the form of unplanned, hit or miss appropriations of money, but will progress to the national capital from the ground up—from the communities and counties and states which lie within each of the logical geographical areas."

Favors Smaller Towns

The president led up to his prediction of a redistribution of populations by relating how New York state, when he was governor, discouraged persons in the vicinity of the proposed St. Lawrence dam from the idea of planning another great manufacturing city like Pittsburgh and adopted a policy of the widest possible distribution of the power to benefit hundreds of smaller towns.

After predicting that every community in the Columbia basin would be wholly electrified in the not far distanst future he added:

"It is because I am thinking of the nation and the region fifty years from now that I venture the further prophesy that as time passes we will do everything in our power to encourage the building of the smaller communities of the United States.

"Today many people are beginning to realize that there is inherent weakness in cities which become too large and inherent strength in a wider geographical distribution of population.

"An over-large city inevitably meets problems caused by oversize. Real estate values and rents become too high; the time consumed in going from one's home to one's work and back again becomes excessive; congestion of streets and other transportation problems arise; truck gardens disappear because the backyard is too small; the cost of living of the average family rises far too high."

The president said there was all of this and it is a balance which "doubtless a reasonable balance in ought to be given more and more study."

Declaring better land use and water conservation were matters of "national concern," he said if the government had the knowledge many years ago it has now and the willingness to act, it would have saved the taxpayers in the last few years "at least two billion dollars."

He said this would have been done by avoiding planting vast areas that should have been kept in grazing, preventing overgrowing, checking soil erosion and denudation of forests and controlling disastrous fires.

He disagreed with "some of my friends who talk glibly of the right of any individual to do anything he wants with any of his property" and say "it is not the concern of federal or state or local government to interfere with what they miscall 'the liberty of the individual'."

The president said Bonneville dam, 170 feet high and 1250 feet long would cost $51,000,000 with installation of initial power machinery.

Completed except for installing of this equipment, the dam and locks he said, would enable shipping to use the Columbia river "much further inland than at present, and give an outlet to the enormously valuable agricultural and mineral products of Oregon and Washington and Idaho."

Built by army engineers, its generators ultimately will produce 583,000 horsepower of electricity. Power will be turned on in a few months.

President Reaches Bonneville Early

BONNEVILLE, Ore., Sept. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's train reached Bonneville at 8:49 a. m. (CST) today.

At the huge Bonneville power-navigation dam Mr. Roosevelt will make the only set address of his west coast trip.

Seattle will be reached tonight for a stop of two nights and a day, to be followed Thursday by a trip to Victoria, B. C., aboard the destroyer Phelps for a "good neighbor" uncheon and sightseeing visit with Lieut. Governor Hamber.

In between the Bonneville address and his arrival in Seattel, the President had arranged a drive to Mt. Hood, in Oregon, for luncheon and a brief address high up at Timberine Lodge, then a long motor trip from there to Portand and Vancouver, Wash. He will reboard his train at Vancouver late today for the ride to Seattle.

Addressing a crowd, officially estimated at around 10,000 at Boise yesterday, the President found himself on the same platform with Senator Borah, veteran republican independent from that city and an opponent of the supreme court enargement plan. Borah joined in the welcome and the President referred to him three times during his brief, informal address.

The Chief Executive said he was thinking of his current trip more of the "bigger objectives of American life" rather than the "petty" disputes of the moment.

Among other things, he said he was thinking of better co-ordination of industrial activities, an improved agriculture conservation of natural sevources including timber, and world peace. When he mentioned industrial control he said "that sounds like Senator Borah."

CHIEF JUSTICE HUGHES USES CUMMINGS REPORT AS ATTACK COURT REORGANIZATION PLAN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today the judicial conference report which recommended appointment of 16 new federal judges was "a complete capitulation" to a major part of President Roosevelt's court re-organigation program.

Thumbing a printed copy of the report prepared by Chief Justice Hughes, Cummings said at his press conference:

"The report is intensely interesting to me and extraordinarily gratifying. It represents concurrence on the part of the judicial conference on nearly all the (President's) suggestions. Therefore I am naturally well pleased with it."

Cummings said the recommendation for four more circuit court judges and 12 additional district judges was the "most drastic" recommendation made by the conference.

He said he would ask Congress to enact legislation to provide for them.

In other quarters of the capital, statistics compiled by Cummings and upon which the annual conference of senior court judges, presided over by Hughes, made its recommendatoins, were regarded as an attack on the President's court proposals.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Statistics compiled by Attorney General Cummings were used as ammunition today by Chief Justice Hughes in a report generally regarded as an attack on President Roosevelt's court reorganization proposal.

Hughes disclosed the annual conference of senior circuit court judges to relieve congestion in certain areas.

He said, however, that a tabulation submitted by the attorney general "indicates important progress has been made" in expediting the work of federal district courts.

"This survey," he added, "indicates clearly that the question of delays in the trial of cases after joinder of issues is one that should be considered with respect to particular districts and affords no just grounds for general criticism of the work of the district courts."

Reports of the circuit judges, Hughes said, "show that in general the circuit courts of appeals are well up with their work."

The attorney general's report, he added, discloses the work is current in 68 of the 84 district courts, exclusive of the District of Columbia, and that pending cases in the district courts last June 30 totaled 106,431 compared with 118,855 a year earlier.

Four of the additional district judges, Hughes said, were recommended by the circuit judges at their meeting a year ago—before the president made his proposal for additional jurists—but that congres had done nothing about them.

Those four were intended for Northern Georgia, Eastern Louisiana, Southern Texas, and Western Washington.

Three new district judges were suggested for the District of Columbia and one each for Western Louisiana, Eastern Michigan, Northern Ohio, Southern California, and Kansas.

One new judge was proposed for each of the following circuit": Second (Vermont, Connecticut, and New York), fifth (Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and the Canal Zone), sixth (Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky, and Tennessee), and seventh (Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin).

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION PERMANENT BLOCKADE OF ANY PLAN REMAKE SUPREME COURT

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Without debate, the American Bar Association today set up a special seven-man committee to carry on its battle against any attempt to "remake" the supreem court.

The report of a special committee, which had warned the association that new efforts probably would be made to change the supreme court, was adopted by a record-breaking attendance of the bar group. No opposition was expressed in the general meeting.

No discussion followed the lengthy report of Sylvester C. Smith, Jr., of Phillipsburg, N. J., chairman of the special committee, which had called on the bar to "maintain itself in readiness to meet (supreme court proposals) issues as they may recur rather than to rely on impromptu organization for the purpose."

The seven-man commission empower by today's vote will report to the bar association on any proposed changes in the country's judicial system. If court alterations are brought up in the next congress, today's vote authorized a referendum of the bar association, the results of which would serve as instructions to the commission.

The special committees' report credited the association-sponsored bar referenda—which showed a 4 1-2 to 1 majority against President Roosevelt's supreme court plan—as a substantial factor "in bringing about the historic adverse report by a majority of the senate committee" on the original administration supreme court bill.

The report warned: "Although the Logan-Hatch-Ashurst bill (a compromise measure which contained President Roosevelt's original suggestions with minor amendments) "is not likely to reappear there appears to be no likelihood that efforts to remake the courts x x will not be renewed.

"Your special committee is of the opinion that the association ought to meet such issues as they recur rather than to reply on impromptu organizations for the purpose."

While speakers continued a critical barrage against the court plan and other Roosevelt measures yesterday, Oklahoma's attorney general Mac Q. Williamson spoke up for the new deal—and brought prompt rebuttal from Frederick H. Stinchfield, the bar association president.

Texas Jurist Honored.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Judge James W. McClendon of the Texas supreme court and Judge James Ellshire of the Idaho supreme court were elected members of the executive council of the National Conference of Judicial Councils last night at the conference's meeting here in connection with the American Bar Association convention.

KANSAS CITY, Cept. 29.—(AP)—Election of Weston Vernon, 33, New York, an opponent of President Roosevelt's court reorganization plan, as chairman of the junior bar conference, was announced today.

YOUR HAIR WHEN TRAVELING.

PROTECT THE HAIR.

Traveling is hard on the hair. The Beauty Diary has a valuable suggestion today which may help you on the next trip you make.

There is only one thing to do about your hair when you travel—no, two things. Just forget all about it and never mind what you look like when you arrive—or have it carefully shampooed and set before you start, and then keep it under a net the entire length of the trip. I remember once going to New York from Los Angeles with a well known movie actress. Her hair had been done just before she got on the Chief; she kept it under a tight, but otherwise almost invisible net the whole time, and combed it loose only after the train left Newark. When she greeted her husband in the station, she might have stepped out of the hair dresser's that minute.

E. K. Forbes

We did something of the sort on our motor trip. It was a leisurely enough affair to mean a shampoo somewhere enroute before we got to Matilda's, but there were two evenings with friends in between and we wanted to look well those nights. So, having had hair and nails and faces done before leaving, we carefully plastered our neatly waved hair under cap shaped nets, the fine sort made of real hair. These pinned in place, and over them we knotted those blessed handkerchief shaped scarfs that every one wears these days.

I wore mine tied behind, Matilda did hers rather coquettishly by bringing the scarf ends forward and up, and knotting them above her forehead—a youthful and becoming fashion. The handkerchieves needed cleaning before long, and it was comforting to think that all that dirt was not on our scalps!

Let me suggest a half dozen of these cap shaped nets as a necessary part of every woman's beauty equipment. And at least one large silk square to tie up her head. Let me suggest, too, that you can put up your hair in metal curlers, tie on the scarf, and "set" your hair on your way to a party.

M. V.—There is always a sluggish state when whiteheads appear in the skin, and whatever means you use that will start nature functioning normally again in the sluggish area, will bring relief. It is best not to prick the skin that covers the clogged pore, as it may cause a scar, and pressing out the clog often bruises and injuries all the tissue under the skin. Occasionally, one may escape the injury, but those who do not, carry pink and deep blue scars for many months, by forcing a recovery.

Facial massage, better still, facial exercise, gets the blood circulating through the muscles, and it increases the activity of the glands in the skin so they begin to throw off the packed secretions. Another great help is to moisten a bit of absorbent cotton with very hot water, and place over the spots, then keep renewing them as they cool off. This amounts to steaming, and with better circulation, the clog will be absorbed, or forced out naturally.

Mrs. J. L.—The most becoming colors are those of your eyes, and if eyes are light, the color of materials should be of a darker shade. The second best choice then is to follow the color of your hair, but there are contrasts too that are needed to give variation, and also bring out the beauty of the plain color.

HUSBAND SUCCUMBS WOUNDS INFLICTED BY INSANE WIFE

NAVASOTA, Sept. 30.—(AP)—W. D. (Cy) Hicks, 42, who was shot twice at his home yesterday, died early today.

Hospital attaches said the utilities company employe lapsed into a coma shortly after midnight and died a few hours later. His wife, adjudged insane a few hours after the shooting in their home, was in a Houston sanitarium.

Hicks told officers his wife shot him when he brought her coffee to the bedroom. He said she reared up in bed and shot him twice with a pistol and then fled from the house.

She was captured a few minutes later as she walked up and down in front of the Hicks home. Officers rushed her to Anderson, county seat, and she was declared of unsound mind by the county judge after a hearing. The family physician testified he had been treating her for a nervous disorder for several months.

The couple and their small daughter came here from Livingston, Tex. Funeral arrangements for Hicks had not been completed today.

FORWARD LEANINGS DISPLAYED THURSDAY BY STOCK MARKET

LIST AT BEST IN THE FIRST HOUR; SELLING CAUSED EXTREME GAINS BE CUT

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Septp. 30.—(AP)—Leading stocks extended their Wednesday's rally on a broad scale during today's early market proceedings, but lost advancing momentum later and finished with trends indefinite.

At the best gains ranged from fractions to 2 or more points, with buying concentrated in coppers, gold mines, steels, rails and farm implements.

The ticker tape diped frequently and transfers approximated 1,150,000 shares.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Stocks, on the whole, displayed forward leanings in today's market, but extension of the recovery move lacked vigor from the start.

The list was at its best in the first hours, with gold mining issues, steels, coppers and rails taking the buying play for gains running to around 2 points or more. Mild selling appeared later and extreme gains were reduced here and there. Dealings were exceptionally quiet.

Helpful whs an upturn in rail bonds and improvement in the principal foreign securities markets. Commodities were a trifle uneven.

Gold stocks such as Dome, McIntyre, Homestake and Alaska Juneau were given a lift as the yellow metal price moved up in London and gold hoarding abroad was reported on the increase.

In favor the greater part of the session were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, Mack Truck, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Anaconda, Kennecott, Cerro De Pasco, International, Nickel, Howe Sound, U. S. Smelting, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Atlantic Coast Line, Pullman, Union Pacific, Case, International Harvester, Deere, Oliver, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, American Can, Continental Can, Allied Chemical, Phillips Petroleum, Amerada, Atlantic Refining, Radio, Loew's, Celanese, Crown Cork, Canada Dry and Union Carbide.

Handicaps were encountered by Consolidated Edison, St. Joseph Lead, National Lead and General Motors.

Curb Strong.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Curb stocks moved upward on a broad front today, with gains ranging up to around 2 points.

The movement marked the fourth consecutive day of advance.

Aluminum Co. of America sold 1 1-2 higher at one time. Fractionally better were American Cyanamid "B," Consolidated Coppermines, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Lake Shore Mines, Teck-Hughes, American Gas and Electric, Niagara Hudsoff Power, United Gas, and United Light and Power "A." Up also were Creole Petroleum and Gulf Oil.

Lower were Todd Shipyards, Newmont Mining, St. Regis Paper and United Wall Paper.

OFFICERS SEEKING MASKED HIJACKERS ROBBING SALESMAN

FORCED TO STOP CAR AT PISTOL POINT; SIXTY-FIVE DOLLARS TAKE

County and city officers Tuesday were still seeking the identity of three allegedly masked highway bandits who stopped a salesman near Chambers creek bridge on Highway 31 about sundown Monday afternoon, forced him to stop his car at the point of pistols, robbed him of approximately $65 in cash and then sped away.

Dillard Conner, cosmetic salesman reported to Constable Clarence Powell that three men had ridden alongside his car near Chambers Creek bridge Monday afternoon. One of the bandits, according to the version given by the victim to the constable, stepped on his running board and forced him to stop his car. Both Conner and his assailants were traveling in a westerly direction at that time.

It was stated that another bandit got out of the car, struck the victim with his fist on the head and than robber him.

During the time of the robbery as told to the constable, the third man, the driver, proceeded a short distance toward Corsicana, turned the 1937 V-8 around, picked up his two confederates and sped in an easterly direction at a high rate of speed.

The trio of hijackers, the victim reported, were masked and the license plates of the automobile apparently were covered with white cloth.

Constable Powell accompanied the victim back to the scene of the robbery where his empty purse and some of his merchandise was found.

City officers were also notified and were on the lookout throughout the night.

It was stated by the constable that three strangers drove about Corsicana Monday afternoon in an automobile suiting the description of the bandit car, bearing Oklahoma license plates.

Conner was en route home from a business trip into East Texas at the time of the robbery.

Stolen Property Returned; Charges Filed Here Today

Burglary complaints against L. O. Martin, alias J. L. Johnson, were filed Tuesday morning in Judge A. E. Foster's court by M. S. Griffin, city detective in connection with the alleged entering of the residences of R. D. Kinney and M. S. Gettig here August 13.

Martin is charged in a number of cases in various sections of the state for burglary and theft, including Waco, and Hillsboro. The loot has been recovered at a residence near Arlington, where detectives and officers maintained all furnishings, etc., were allegedly stolen in addition to a quantity of rings, watches and other valuable jewelry.

City and county officers intimated that Martin would be returned to face the charges.

Two electric fans and other articles missed here were recovered and returned to the owners it was learned Tuesday.

Martin, officers report, escaped from the Eastham farm, Texas penitentiary system, in 1928, and was recaptured in Fort Worth a week kalso in a gun battle with officers.

GOVERNOR ALLRED USED "SMOKE SCREEN" CHARGES SENATOR HOLBROOK

AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—(AP)—A senate committee investigating costs of state government recommended today the taxpayer be given a "rest."

Pointing to possibility of larger revenues from existing taxes and a need for "retracting $10,000,000 in excess moneys appropriated for the present biennium," Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, chairman, said the question of economies should come before raising additional revenue, express purpose of the called session.

The group suggested:

Abolishing the liquor board and transferring collections to the comptroller and enforcement to local officers at an estimated saving of $900,000.

Eliminating $500,000 from the Delaying operation of the teachrural aid appropriation.

ers' retirement fund and aid to the needy blind and dependent children pending completion of a study of "actual needs and prop er courses of procedure."

Holbrook said revenue from oil alone would be $6,000,000 more than the last two years and gas utilities and possibly ad valorem taxes would bring an $2,000,000 increase.

"Considering economies which could be effected," he said, "the general fund deficit would be approximately $14,000,000 at the end of the biennium, without including increased collections."

Would Accelerate Spending.

The chairman asserted new and increased taxes at this time would accelerate state spending whereas a deficit of not more than $14,000,000 would tend to prevent it.

He said expenditures had doubled in the past decade and citizens would pay $115,000,000 by Aug. 31, 1939, without more or higher taxes.

The committee urged legislation if necessary, to expedite collection of more than $20,000,000 delinquencies of which $10,000,000 could be gathered in two years to almost balance the general fund.

Holbrook said the report was preliminary to recommendations for setting up a simpler form of governmeint at the next general session in 1939.

He charged Governor James V. Allred used a "smoke screen" by stressing deficits in his message to the legislature yesterday, adding the governor had approved bills increasing the tax burden by $1,000,000 and had asked $15,000,000 more for each of the next two years in face of his re-election on a campaign of economy.

Alarmed and Chagrined.

"I am both alarmed and chagrined at the governor's attitude on the matter of taxation which concerns the happiness and welfare of the people more than all other issues combined," he said.

In addition, th chairman asserted the governor had never prepared and submitted a budget to the legislature as required by law.

Other recommendations were:

Re-allocating to the general fund occupational tax revenues originally allotted to the school fund through "overzealousness" of legislators.

Setting a maximum ad valorem rate for school purposes to eliminate confusion.

Eliminating overlapping work of social welfare agencies.

Cutting off between 500 and 1,000 employees hired through "political pull."

Eliminating public relation rectors in mosts departments.

Equalizing salaries of officers and employees.

Girard and Rice Clash For Title Sunday Afternoon

Rice and Girard Oilers will clash at Magnolia field Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the championship of the Navarro County Baseball league.

Girard won the opening game of the series last Sunday and needs only one game to cinch the title. In the event that the Oilers win the opening tussle Sunday afternoon, the second game will not be played. Should Rice annex the first game Sunday, the second will decide the title.

Girard earned the right to compete in the final series by eliminating the Currie Wildcats in a sensational game ten days ago, while Rice advanced to the final round with a two out of three victory over the Corsicana Cotton Millers.

Carl Ruth and Hubert Joyner will be the umpires.

A large crowd will likely be present.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS ASSEMBLY CONDEMNS JAP AIR WARFARE

QUICK ACTION TAKEN ON RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY COMMITTEE PREVIOUSLY

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY

GENEVA, Stpt. 28.—(AP)—The League of Nations assembly condemned Japanese aerial bombardment of China cities todoay by a moment of dramatic, solemn silence.

There was no formal vote.

The Aga Khan, delegate from India and newly-elected assembly president, interpreted as a vote of unanimous approval the silence that followed presentation of the Sino-Japanese advisory committee's resolution of condemnation.

The assembly acted swiftly on the resolution. It had been adopted yesterday by the League advisory group on which the United States is represented in a consultative capacity.

A letter accompanying the text of the measure, from Foreign Minister William Munters of Latvia, president of the 23-nation Sino-Japanese committee, explained its purpose was to give delegates not represented on the committee an opportunity to subscribe to it.

Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, Republican Spain's League delegate, then took the floor to support the resolution. At the conclusion of his address, the Aga Khan, chairman of the assembly, announced the body had approved the condemnation without dissenting vote.

The brief condemnation of Japanese aerial tactics in the undeclared war in China, as approved by the advisory committee, expressed "profound distress at the loss of life caused to innocent civilians, including great numbers of women and children, as the result of such bombardment."

The resolution declared "no excuse can be made for such acts, which have aroused horror and indignation throughout the world," and "solemnly" condemned such attacks.

Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, China's delegate, had urged the League to brand Japan the "wrongdoer of the world" and an aggressor in the Sino-Papanese war—if the League could not go further to "enforce international law and principles of the (League) covenant."

Numerous Harlan County Executives Face Arraignment

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Twenty-three present or former deputy sheriffs, 24 coal mine company executives and 22 companies, all of Harlan County, Ky., today faced arraignment in late November on charges of depriving miners of civil rights guaranteed by the national labor relations act.

Summonses for them to appear at the opening of federal district court at London, Ky., on Nov. 22 were sent to the U. S. commissioner there last night after a federal grand jury here had returned a blanket indictment against them.

The indictment charged the defendants had "unlawfully and feloniously" conspired since July 5, 1935, to prevent miners from organizing or joining labor unions and from bargaining collectively.

CORSICANA TEAM MEETS MEXIA IN NON-FLAG TILT

STATE HOME ENTERTAINS FERRIS IN CONFERENCE ATTRACTION

Two attractive football games are carded for Corsicana gridirons Friday evening, one a conference B tilt and the other a non-conference affair but between two rivals on years' standing.

Corsicana High Tigers, seeking their first victory of the current season, will clash with the colorful Mexia Black Cats at Tiger field at 8 o'clock Friday night. This is the first time in a number of years these two high schools have met on the gridiron. In former years, the Felines have given the Bengals plenty of trouble, and since those days, Mexia has improved and advanced in football circles while the Bengals have dropped from their high place in the gridiron ranks. Mexia is topping the percentage table in district 10-A with a win over the Gaston eleven last week after absorbing a decisive drubbing at the hands of Waco Tigers. Corsicana dropped a 42-7 loss to the Highland Park Highlanders in the opening tussle and then dropped a 20-2 decision to the Bryan Broncs last week in a district melee.

Aerial Practice.

Aerial atack has been stressed by the Benegal mentors this week as they prepare for Ebony Felines here Friday night. This department had been woefully weak in the first tilts of the current compaign.

Reports from the Limestone metropolis are to the effect that considerable interest is being taken in the approaching tussle with the Bengals and a large following will accompany the Cats here on that occasion.

State Home Lads meet the strong Ferris combination in a District 16-B conference engagement at Garitty Field, State Home, Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. This will be the first game in conference competition in that circuit and a number of scouts from other towns will likely be in attendance.

State Home was socked by Mart in the opening tussle of the season but showed considerable improvement in the tilt with the Abbott eleven Friday night when the Lads carried off a 24-0 decision.

Lads Are Ready

The club is reported in excellent shape for their tilt Friday evening. Ferris boasts a veteran club, carrying plenty of punch.

I.O.O.F. Lynx, five-times district champions, mark time this week without a tilt. The boys needed a rest following a couple of gruelling engagements with class A opponents. The Lynx lost to the Waxahachie Indians, 19-13, and to Adamson of Dallas, 34-6, in their first two games.

The probable line-ups and officials of the two games here Friday night had not been announced by the coaches early Thursday morning.

Only light drills were carded for Thursday afternoon after hard training the first of the week.

REPORTS INDICATE SUCCESSFUL FAIR HERE IN OCTOBER

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BOARD DIRECTORS MEET IN POSTPONED SESSION

Prospects of a successful fair in mid-October were indicated if weather is favorable by reports made by R. W. Knight to the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce at a postponed session held Tuesday morning in the chamber offices.

Vice President N. Suttle Roberts presided in the absence of President W. P. McCammon. Resolutions regretting the removal of Ted B. Ferguson, member of the board, to Dallas were unanimously adopted.

A number of communications were read to the directors including gone from Bryan school officials extending their thanks for the transportation afforded them on their visit to Corsicana last week. Another was from the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce stating they were aiding in a move to have Highway 22 made a part of a single-designation federal highway. A letter was read from Senator Morris Sheppard inclosing some information concerning the Navarro county rural electrification project.

A letter was read from officials of the Bowen Motor Coaches concerning their plans for erection of a bus terminal in Corsicana, and after some discussion individual members of the board expressed the opinion that nothing definite had been done and the problem was no nearer a solution.

Checking over fair plans with the directors, the secretary reported some additional entries in the Hereford division had been secured Tuesday morning by a trip to the Ellis County Fair at Ennis, bringing total entries to about 40; he reported the dairy cattle department was almost full, and saw indications of an overflow in the poultry division. He reported weather was the only doubtful factor.

He also reported that no admission would be charged to visit the various fair exhibits, but that a fee would be charged to the carnival grounds but that the fair association would share in these receipts.

He said no commercial exhibit parade would be attempted but that a school children's procession would be staged if the response to the proposal was sufficient.

The secretary asked the board for authorization to secure extra contributions to effect repairs in the chamber quarters but after some discussion the board agreed no action was necessary. A total of 86 new members of the organization in recent weeks were reported.

A report was presented on the Trinity river watershed flood control and soil conservation hearing and after some discussion, the board passed the matter without official action stating that present information on the proposal was insufficient to justify either approval or opposition.

NEW BREED OF HIGH BORN TO RESCUE OF THE WORLD *

Beneath All Present Social and Economical And Political Changes a Really Potent Force Is at Work----Sons of God Are True Friends of Man.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Many persons today sincerely believe, with Macauley, that only a government by the upper classes can successfully operate society. This idea confronts our troubled world in the modern form of Fascism.

Still larger numbers of persons believe, with equal sincerity, that only the rule of the proletariat can save the world. Their creed is Communism or Socialism.

Some nations, especially in Asia, continue to entertain the ancient belief in successful government of the people by an autocrat. King-rule is the oldest rule.

A minority of the world's population still holds to the faith that the rule of the assorted mass— high and low, rich and poor, learned and ignorant—can carry on civilization most successfully. This is called democracy.

The Breed of the High Born

These divergent views are filling the world with fear and uncertainty and strife, and even actual war. But careful observers detect signs, on all horizons, of the emergence of a better way of life than any yet tried.

This is the rule of the high born—those who are "born from Above." There is steadily increasing on earth the number of men and women who are conscious, above all else, of their identity as children of God; and of their filial relatino to their Heavenly Father.

These sons of God recognize their obligation to display the Family traits. Because sons of God, they are also brothers one to another. Their mission it is to bring in the reign of righteousness and brotherhood among all men. A new sense of "noblesse oblige"—rank implies obligation—is permeating the whole Christian family; and some groups are definitely perceiving and accepting their responsibility to change the world.

Christians have seldom grasped the full meaning of their obligations and power. If suddenly, by some great spiritual awakening the avowed disciples of Jesus Christ, sharers of is Sonship with the Father, were to become fully aware of their power and mission, the whole complexion of human life everywhere would be changed within a generation. Most of us have witnessed the effect upon a family, or a neighborhood, of one person's living out the conception of what it means to be a child of God. We have only to multiply that instance by the number of professed Christians to get a vision of their possible influence upon the whole of life.

Religion in Action.

We have been living in foggy days. The so-called "intellectuals" of our era have spread abroad a nebulous and unmoral pantheism. In effect, they have said that God, if there be a God, is whatever you think He is; but in any case, He has no moral significance. Do as you pease; there is no higher end in life than to gratify your natural impulses. Man is divine, and whatever he does is all right. "Personal liberty" is the great slogan. The Bible is out moded, and the Ten Commandments have no validity in our "enlightened" age.

This sort of teaching, much of it, alas, emanating from half-baked college professors, has done infinite harm, especially to the immature minds and life of youth. Over against it may be put the explicit commands of Scripture, buttressed by the longer experience of the race. It was Christian principles that made Great Britain and the United States and Canada; all of the ideals of these democracies were derived directly from the Bible. Our forebears were made mighty by the conviction that they were sons of God, and bound to act as became that royal breed. For a generation we have been witnessing a slump from that high ideal of life. But signs are many that vital Christianity is again swinging into action.

The Coronation Truth.

This crowning of man with the diadem of Divine sonship exalts personality above any other philosophical conception ever advanced. It puts both motive and power into the pursuit of the good life for the whole world. Exultantly, our Lesson text opens —I quote from the Weymouth Translation of the New Testament—"See what marvellous love the Father has bestowed upon us—that we should be called God's children; and that is what we are."

"That is what we are"—what a pillow for weary and troubled brains! The larder may be low, and the bang account empty, and our own and the worlds affairs may be in confusion; but this tremendous truth fortifies the soul and speaks peace to the mind; we are the children of God, and He is the best of Fathers.

There is comfort beyond all telling in this truth that we are sons of God. More than that, there is power in it. Once he realizes his high birth, and his obligations as a member of the Divine family, a person is going to behave in a manner befitting this relationship. He cannot stoop to low deeds that would besmirch his name as a son of the King. And he cannot help behaving royally in his relations with all men. All of life is changed when this truth of Divine sonship grips one's soul. Families are altered, neighborhoods are elevated, business and industry become fraternal, and peace, the child of good will, walks happily abroad in the earth.

An Old Man's Simplifications.

It was the best friend that Jesus Christ ever had on earth. His dearest comrade, who simplified this sublime truth into a matter of everyday living. John the Beloved lived to a great age, the older he grew, and the more clearly he saw into the character of God, the greater the emphasis he placed upon sonship and love. Note some of his unequivocal statements in the present Lesson. (I again quote Weymouth.)

"No one who continues in union with Him lives in sin; no one who lives in sin has seen Him or knows Him."

"No one who is a child of God is habitually guilty of sin. A God-given germ of life remains in him, and he cannot habitually sin —because he is a child of God."
